REDS STAGE ATTACKS

Report 20 Of Hitler's Tanks Crushed By Big Soviet Machines

BERLIN, Sept. 2.—(AP)—The most advanced German units in the Leningrad drive are standing before Krasnogvardeisk, 20 miles southwest of that second city of the Soviet Union, informed German quarters said today.

Rumanian troops were declared by DNB to be besieging the main waterworks of Odessa, isolated Russian city on the Black sea.

LONDON, Sept. 2.—(AP)—The R. A. F. launched another heavy attack on the German-held coast of northern France this evening after its daytime assaults had filled the skies with planes from breakfast to teatime.

Heavy explosions rumbled across the channel and Dover strait tonight from seemingly an air attack as vigorous as it was strong numerically.

MOSCOW, Sept. 2.—(AP)—Red army units counter-attacking on the central sector toward Smolensk have routed a German infantry regiment rushed to the eastern front from France only 10 days ago, it was announced officially today.

MOSCOW, Sept. 2.—(AP)—Russian counter-attacks and fighting forays behind the German lines were reported today to have given the Red army time to dig in for a strengthened stand from hard-pressed Leningrad to the fiercely-contested banks of he Dnieper river.

For the fifth consecutive day the ficial Moscow communique declared ssian defense positions unchanged the Red army stood off German slaughts and struck back in sector fter sector along the entire front.

The Moscow radio broadcast a statement that the German army was bleeding to death slowly from the wounds of almost ten and a half weeks of costly assault. It declared the Nazi casualties had mounted to 2,500,000—with 1,000,000 of that total killed.

No specific sectors were named in Moscow war reports, but the midnight communique credited massive Russian tanks with literally smashing beneath their heavy treads a German light tank attack at the outskirts of a city identified only as "D."

The attackers first ran into heavy Russian artillery fire, the war report declared, and then into a counter-

HOLIDAY DEATH TOLL UP TO 614

Goes To 100 Above Figure For Same Period Last Year

(By Associated Press)

Six hundred fourteen persons were illed in accidents or by other violence over the holiday week-end, 416 f them in highway traffic, heavy with homebound vacationists and ourists on their final outing of the summer.

An Associated Press survey showed today 73 drowned and 125 died in shootings, stabbings, falls, fires, airplane accidents and by other violent means.

The traffic toll compared with a prediction by the National Safety council that 600 persons, or 180 more than on a normal summer week-end, would be killed in traffic between 5 p.m. Friday and midnight Monday. The council's forecast, however, included those injured in holiday crashes who might die later.

Deaths from all violent causes over the Labor day week-end a year ago otaled 514 as against 614 this year.

Six states—Nebraska, Nevada, New Hampshire, North Dakota, South Dakota, Wyoming—reported no traffic deaths over the week-end. Nebraska has had no fatal automobile accidents since Thursday when seven were killed. Its one violent death over the holiday was caused by a kicking horse.

New York City had no traffic deaths n the 24 hours ending last midnight.

The automobile fatalities included Robert L. Ramsay, Jr., son of Representative Ramsay, Democrat, West

PAPER WORKER AT SPRINGHILL KILLED

SPRINGHILL, La., Sept. 2.—(AP)—Riley Miller, 35, formerly of Pascagoula, Miss., where his parents still reside, was killed yesterday in an accident at the paper mill here.

Two other workmen, whose names were not immediately made public, were slightly hurt but did not require hospitalization, a company official aid.

Miller was killed, the official said, while working on an air compressor and the accident was blamed on failure of someone to cut off the air pressure. He said an investigation will be made to fix the blame.

Although, he said, at times the plant manufactures products used by national defense industries, no sabotage s suspected.

C. I. O. GROUP ASKS UNITY IN WAR ON NAZIS

Says There's No Basis For Disagreement On Crushing Hitlerism

CAMDEN, N. J., Sept. 2.—(AP)—Slapping at isolationists, ranking officers of one of the five largest units of the Congress of Industrial Organizations declare "there is no basis for disunity now on the question of supporting every step necessary to crush Hitlerism."

This report to the United Electrical, Radio and Machine Workers of America by President James B. Carey, Secretary-Treasurer Julius Emspak and Director James J. Mattles is not in line with C. I. O. Founder John L. Lewis' frequently expressed opposition to President Roosevelt's foreign policy.

The U. E. R. M. W. is the first major C. I. O. branch to meet since Lewis signed the now-famous statement with 14 leading Republican isolationists. Paving the way for action later in the week on resolutions dealing with aid to the democracies and other phases of the Roosevelt policy, the union chieftains asserted:

"Those who thought the British government was the reliable source of the will and power to defeat Fascism—they may continue to think so. And those who thought the Soviet Union was the reliable force to do the job—they, too, may continue to think it was they who were right.

"But certainly both groups now agree that the united might of the British and Soviet governments, backed by the United States and supported most of all by the hatred for Fascism that is bred in the bones of every worker—such a combination can hardly fail to rid humanity once and for all of the very fountainhead of Fascism, the Nazi government of Germany."

After listening to the report yesterday, the union's 500 delegates repre-

CUT SPEED LIMIT TO 35 MILES HOUR

BATON ROUGE, La., Sept. 2.—(AP)—The state today moved to comply with a request from Lieutenant-General Ben Lear, commanding the Second army, for a 35-mile-an-hour speed limit for civilian traffic in the Louisiana maneuver area to be occupied by the Second army this month.

Governor Sam Jones said state police had accepted the responsibility and would keep down traffic speed to the level asked. General Lear's forces will face the Third army commanded by Lieutenant-General Walter Krueger in giant war games involving 500,000 troops beginning September 15.

State Police Superintendent Steve Alford, coordinator of safety measures for both armies, said signs limiting speed to 35 miles an hour would be placed on all roads in the northern tier of parishes to be occupied by the Second army during the Louisiana maneuvers.

Speed limits already have been placed in effect along the main roads in the Third army's area in central and southwest Louisiana, Alford said.

THREATEN FULL STOP IN SALE OF GASOLINE

Dealers Say They'll Close If 'Living Margin' Not Guaranteed

PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 2.—(AP)—A general stoppage of service at most of the eastern seaboard's 100,000 gasoline stations is held out as a possibility unless the government insures the dealers a "living margin."

This was predicted by Benjamin L. Jacoby, head of the Associated Gasoline Retailers of Philadelphia and vicinity, who said such a holiday would be discussed along with gasless Sundays by the Eastern States Conference of Gasoline Retailers opening here today.

"The dealers are going to protest all phases of this curtailment to Washington, to President Roosevelt himself if necessary," declared Jacoby.

He said station operators were being driven to consider closing by new government regulations effective yesterday under which stations from Maine to Florida were put on a September gasoline quota 15 per cent under their July sales to counteract the oil shortage.

Asserting Acting Petroleum Coordinator Ralph K. Davies who fixed the quota "doesn't know the first thing about the gasoline business," Jacoby claimed July was a poor month because of vacations and that by basing the quota on a month of low sales the actual reduction would be about 25 per cent.

Price Administrator Leon Henderson set a maximum fair price of 18 1-2 cents here—four cents above tank wagon rates—although some charged

AUTHORITIES HUNT ESCAPED SOLDIERS

NEW ROCHELLE, N. Y., Sept. 2.—Five soldiers who remained at large after they and six others sawed their way out of Fort Slocum's guard house on David's island yesterday morning surrendered shortly after dawn today to Scarsdale, N. Y., police.

NEW ROCHELLE, N. Y., Sept. 2.—(AP)—Authorities of nine states were on the lookout today for five of 11 soldiers who sawed their way yesterday morning out of Fort Slocum's guardhouse on David's island.

Three of the soldiers gave themselves up at the fort, while the others made their way to the mainland—a distance of a mile—either in a canoe or by swimming.

One of the group, Robert Bowmar, 20, of Brooklyn, surrendered to New Rochelle police last night with the explanation he was "tired of being hunted."

The entire group, all of whom except one are regular army men, made their way through a one-foot opening in the barred guardhouse window. The bars had been cut with hacksaws apparently smuggled into the detention quarters.

In addition to Bowmar, two others were captured by the New Rochelle police, but still missing and listed in a nine-state alarm, were:

Salvatore J. Telesco, 21, of Port Chester, N. Y.; Cye W. Watson, 21, of Salisbury, N. C.; James M. Gray, 28, of Portsmouth, Va.; Robert M. Lewis, 19, of McKeesport, Pa., and Frank Mello, 22, of Medford, Mass.

SPOKESMEN FOR LABOR DEFIANT OF HITLERISM

Led By Roosevelt In Pledging Unceasing Efforts To Destroy It

HOLIDAY IS ENJOYED

Record Traffic Recorded As Vacationists Visit Cities, Resorts

(By Associated Press)

Led by President Roosevelt, the spokesmen of the working men and women of the United States used Labor day speeches to voice uncompromising defiance of Hitlerism and to pledge unceasing efforts for its destruction.

The overtones of the war were dominant in the observance of the holiday. Whereas in bygone years labor was reminded of its gains, the messages yesterday laid their stress on the heritage labor was called on to defend and on labor's tremendous role in accelerating the flow of defense and lease-lend arms production.

Because of its pronouncements on international affairs, President Roosevelt's speech from his Hyde Park, N. Y., home commanded major attention.

Mr. Roosevelt categorically ruled out the suggestion—advanced by several of those hostile to administration foreign policy—that he approach Hitler to seek a negotiated peace in Europe's war.

For the axis, the president had these words:

"I know that I speak the conscience and determination of the American people when I say that we shall do everything in our power to crush Hitler and his Nazi forces."

As for American rights he believes to be imperiled, he proclaimed flatly:

"There has never been a moment in our history when Americans were not ready to stand up as free men and fight for their rights."

Mr. Roosevelt used his address to reiterate what he has emphasized before: that production still leaves much to be desired; that a greater output must be reached if the axis is to be worsted; that all private aims and interests must be subordinated to that end.

Although the course of Europe's war imparted a special gravity to Labor day exercises, the day managed to retain its holiday character. Trans-

HOSPITAL'S PAY LOW, SNEE SAYS

Blames That And Stricter Rules For Threatened Walkout

BATON ROUGE, La., Sept. 2.—(AP)—State Institutions Director J. E. Snee said today he blamed the threatened walkout of between 100 and 150 employes at the East Louisiana State Hospital for the Insane to disgruntlement over low wages and stricter working rules together with "a little political sabotage."

Additional discharges are in progress of being made, Snee said, among the employes who reportedly threatened to tar and feather Dr. F. A. Donaldson, the institution's superintendent, and "ride him back to Mississippi," his home state.

Already 67 employes described by Director Snee as leaders in the uprising have been dismissed and Mrs. Roland B. Howell, the institutions department's personnel director, continued her investigation at the Jackson hospital for further dissidents

"I attribute the trouble to our enforcing more rigid rules and standards at the hospital," Snee said. "Some of the oldtimers on the staff resented that, apparently. There also was undoubtedly a little political sabotage too.

"Then some of the salaries are too low but there's nothing we can do about it right now. We're doing the best we can with the money available."

The employes, reportedly to have threatened to turn some of the patients loose and cut off the power plant,

GIRL QUARRELS WITH YOUTH, KILLS SELF

CHICAGO, Sept. 2. — (AP) — Betty Smith, 15, was to start her sophomore year at South Chicago High school today, but instead she was dead—victim of what Detective John Dorgan said was suicide motivated by a quarrel with a 16-year-old boy friend.

The detective said Edward Bearby told him he had been seeing Betty for about a week and had upbraided her yesterday at a beach because she teased him, pulled his hair and threw sand at him.

Edward wrote her a note saying "This is the last goodbye. * * * I don't like girls who fool around a lot."

Dorgan said that before Betty shot herself with her uncle's deer rifle, she had scribbled "No" on the note in reply to Bearby's question, "Do you think it right what I am doing, or don't you?"

COUNT AND 2 AMERICANS IN MISSING PLANE

Ten Persons Aboard Lost Transport Plane Of R. A. F. Ferry

LONDON, Sept. 2.—(AP)—Two Americans and Count Guy de Baillet-Latour, son of the chairman of the International Olympic committee, Count Henri de Baillet-Latour, were among ten persons aboard a transport plane of the R. A. F. ferry command given up for lost today by the air ministry.

The ferry command at first announced that the Olympic official himself was aboard the plane, but the Belgian embassy later confirmed that it was the son, who is assistant military attache of the Belgian embassy in London and son-in-law of James Clement Dunn, political advisor to United States Secretary of State Cordell Hull.

Count Guy had been in Washington on a mission as a member of the staff of the minister of colonies of the emigre Belgian government. His father is still in Belgium.

The Americans were Captain S. Picking of the United States navy, a passenger, and Flight Engineer Charles Alvan Spence, of Little Neck, L. I., N. Y., a member of the crew.

The plane left North America (presumably Canada) yesterday for England. In announcing that the craft was missing today the air ministry said that the next of kin of those aboard had been informed.

One of the passengers on the missing plane was Dr. Mark Benjamin, of Wembley, Eng., of the central scientific office in Washington.

The others in the list of missing follow:

Professor R. Mowat, Bristol, British library of information.

BYRD SAYS U. S. CAN SHORTEN WAR

WASHINGTON, Sept. 2.—(AP)—America, in the opinion of Senator Byrd, Democrat, Virginia, has the choice of a shorter European war "providing we speed up our defense production."

Speaking on the Washington Star radio forum over NBC last night, the Virginian called for an end of strikes in defense industries, appointment of an executive head for the program, and abandonment of the "business as usual" doctrine.

At the same time he repeated his charges that the production of military material was behind schedule.

"The job of spending billions for defense is an executive one," Byrd said. "One man, the ablest citizen in America, can do a better job in executive management than a seven-man board super-imposed on other boards."

He made it clear that he referred to the recently created supply priorities and allocations board, of which Donald M. Nelson is executive director.

Byrd called the production of military planes "the No. 1 failure" of the defense program.

"Little more than 700 combat planes were produced in July, 16 less than in the previous month of June, and the total production was 200 less than the schedule," he declared.

The senator added that only 14 heavy four-motored bombers were produced in July, compared with 12 in June and 21 in April. That type of plane, he asserted, is the one most needed by Great Britain.

RUSSIANS SEEK U. S. BOMBERS

Five Officials In San Diego Conferring With Aircraft Firm

SAN DIEGO, Calif., Sept. 2.—(AP)—Five Russian officials were in San Diego today negotiating with the Consolidated Aircraft corporation to buy giant bombing planes.

Activity of this buying commission reportedly coincided with the arrival at Nome, Alaska, of two Russian seaplanes transporting 47 men—believed to be mostly pilots and engineers—from Moscow to Washington, D. C.

The Russian commission conferring with Major R. H. Fleet, president of Consolidated Aircraft, was made up of Major-General A. K. Repin and Colonel R. F. Berezin of the Russian army, and V. T. Bazykin, C. T. Ovhinnikow and A. A. Anisimov, attaches of the embassy in Washington.

None of the Russians would discuss their mission and Consolidated spokesmen did not divulge any details.

Consolidated officials did say, however, that the big seaplanes at Nome were obtained by Soviet Russia through a $1,000,000 contract made in 1937 through the Russian government aircraft trust.

This deal, made with approval of the United States navy and handled

JONES IS HOST TO FLORIDA GOVERNOR

BATON ROUGE, La., Sept. 2.—(AP)—Louisiana's Governor Sam Jones was host to Governor Spessard Holland of Florida in the state executive mansion following the Florida executive's visit to troops from his state taking part in the big Louisiana army maneuvers.

Governor Holland and Adjutant General Vivian Collins of Florida had supper with Governor Jones at the mansion last night. Both left to spend the day today in New Orleans.

BIG TAX BILL IS PLACED ON SENATE FLOOR

Approved By Finance Committee And Ready For Debate Tomorrow

WASHINGTON, Sept. 2.—(AP)—The Senate finance committee formally approved the record-breaking tax bill today and sent it on to the Senate for debate tomorrow.

The bill, biggest in history, was estimated by the treasury to produce $3,672,400,000 and by Chairman George, Democrat, Georgia, of the finance group to yield approximately $4,500,000,000.

Senator La Follette, Progressive, Wisconsin, a committee member, told reporters he would file a minority report criticising the measure. George announced that Senator Clark, Democrat, Missouri, reserved the right to file a minority report in opposition to the committee's decision to broaden the income tax base by lowering personal income deductions from $2,000 to $1,500 for married persons and from $800 to $750 for single individuals.

Senator Connally, Democrat, Texas, reserved the right to report in opposition to a committee amendment prohibiting husbands and wives in the so-called community property states from dividing income in an effort to lower their taxes.

George said that if his calculations of a $4,500,000,000 yield proved correct, federal revenues would approach $15,000,000,000 next year.

Although several controversial items may develop considerable Senate debate, George appeared optimistic that the revenue measure would be approved by next Saturday night. He said that if the bill—carrying $456,000,000 more than the treasury-estimated House total—were passed in substantially its present form there would be little difficulty in adjusting Senate changes when a joint conference committee considers the measure. George said he hoped the conference group, composed of members of the Senate and House taxing committees, could begin its work a week from today.

Topping the list of Senate committee changes was an amendment to cut from $2,000 to $1,500 the income exemption for married persons and from $800 to $750 the exemption for single

MODERATES ASK FRIENDLY ROLE TOWARD ALLIES

Say Defiance Of Britain And U. S. Would Bring Catastrophe

PEOPLE ARE PANICKY

Plan To Take Refuge Under Reed Mats If Air Attacks Staged

(By Associated Press)

Japan was reported reliably today to be in the throes of an internal struggle between German-goaded extremists and realistic moderates over how best to achieve the unchallenged oriental dominance which Japanese regard as their ordained world role.

According to reliable foreigners, including axis nationals, arriving at Shanghai, the seething situation behind Tokyo's censorship may develop one or more of the following:

1. Japanese action in the Pacific or a new move on the Asiatic continent; the former might be a thrust against the Netherlands East Indies and the latter a move against Thailand or Vladivostok, Russia's Pacific gateway for receipt of war supplies from the United States.

2. Overthrow of the present Konoye government, possibly by force.

3. Rapprochement with the United States and Britain, desired by the realistic moderates as a breathing spell pending hope for eventual American-British acceptance of the Japanese expansionist policy.

The last would represent a victory for the present moderating influences in the Konoye government; the first two a victory for the extremists, notably the military clique, which, according to the Shanghai arrivals, is under pressure and even demands from German advisers for a Japanese challenge to the United States, Britain and Russia.

Realistic Japanese leaders were pictured as sure that Japan would face a catastrophic defeat if she makes that challenge.

Between the rival leaders in Japan lay the mass of panicky civilians, according to the Shanghai story, preparing for incendiaries and explosives with buckets of water and piles of sand outside their flimsily-built homes

EASY PAYMENT TIME EXPIRES

Banks And Stores Open With Restrictions On Credit In Effect

WASHINGTON, Sept. 2.—(AP)—America's stores and banks opened today for the first real day of business under government rules restricting easy time payments.

The federal reserve board's installment credit regulations went into effect yesterday morning, but the Labor day holiday delayed the full effect of the order until today.

How much the rules may curtail business, no one in Washington would guess. However, federal reserve officials indicated that they looked for no great dislocation, because they believed the regulations to be mild.

What the board did was to fix minimum down payments and maximum time to pay the balance on a selected list of consumer articles. Improvement loans on real estate and cash loans under $1,000 also are limited.

On each of the specified consumer articles and the small cash loans, the time limit on repayment will be 18 months.

The down payment minimums follow:

33 1-3 per cent on automobiles, airplanes, power boats, boat motors motorcycles; 20 per cent on mechanical refrigerators, washing machines ironers, suction cleaners, cookin stoves and ranges, heating stoves an space heaters, radios and musical in

Couple Celebrates 50th Anniversary

Mr. And Mrs. J. M. Marshall Hold Open House On Their Golden Wedding Day

Fifty years of married life together was the occasion which relatives and friends helped Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Marshall celebrate last week. It was their golden wedding anniversary, an event whose comparative rarity makes it a time for especial festivity.

Guests called throughout the evening to offer affectionate congratulations to the old couple and to present them with gifts appropriate for the occasion.

A corsage of sweetheart roses lent a touching note of symbolism to the ensemble in which Mrs. Marshall received guests. She wore a brown net gown with matching accessories.

She was assisted by her daughter, Mrs. Rugh Howell, her daughter-in-law, Mrs. G. W. Lawrence of Shreveport, and Mrs. I. R. Harper.

The house was made a gala setting by the multitude of flowers which bedecked it. In keeping with the occasion, gold predominated in the decorations.

The center of attraction in the dining room was a wedding cake iced in gold and topped by a tiny old-fashioned bride and groom. It was placed on an antique silver platter on the lace-covered table. Heirloom silver candlesticks holding gold candles were arranged about the cake.

Molded ice cream in the colors of white and gold and individual cakes with gold icing were also served. Assisting with the serving were Mrs. H. A. Scott, Mrs. J. W. Taylor, Mrs. Julius Irving and Mrs. B. L. Mulhern.

Water was served from a cut glass pitcher which was one of Mrs. Marshall's wedding presents at her marriage fifty years ago.

A feature of the evening was a musical program rendered by William Butler, vocalist, accompanied by Mrs. John Sholars at the piano. Mrs. I. R. Harper also played several numbers in reminiscent vein.

Among those who registered in the white leather guest book during the evening were: Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Lawrence of Shreveport, La., Mrs. Stella Roberson, Mrs. Irwin Harper, Mr. and Mrs. B. L. Mulhern, Mrs. C. M. Barnes, Mrs. H. A. Scott, J. R. Lankford, Bonnie Jean Lankford, Mrs. J. A. Irving, William Butler, Mrs. J. W. Taylor, Mr. and Mrs. S. A. Moss, Bernice Liner, Mrs. Joe Renwick, Dink Renwick, Mrs. A. T. Rochester, Mrs. W. B. Brown, Mrs. W. J. Vicknair, Mrs. R. L. Reese, Mrs. George Wesley Smith, Marie Arnold, Mrs. Edna Arnold, Marion Illg of New Orleans, La.

Mrs. C. Pohl, Mrs. E. E. McDaniel, Mrs. Louise Yeldell, Betty Jane Yeldell, Mrs. R. R. Pribble, Mrs. K. B. Stewart, Mrs. McDowell, Mrs. L. E. Haltey, Mrs. J. W. Reynolds, Mrs. J. T. Benson, Leta Mae Benson, Mr. and Mrs. P. J. Newman, Mrs. F. E. Schmalfuss, Mrs. John Sholars, Mrs. O. P. Slack, Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Langford.

Mrs. Frank Martin, G. P. Walker, Mrs. R. B. Garrison, Miss E. Thoman, Mrs. O. R. Brauer, Mrs. R. G. Stewart, Mrs. W. E. Regan, Robert Cowden, J. C. Liner, Mr. and Mrs. F. M. Culver, Mrs. G. L. Baker, Mr. and Mrs. F. K. Vaughn, Mrs. Stella E. Courtney, Mr. and Mrs. H. C. Hartman, Mr. and Mrs. W. K. Olmstead, Earl Mulhern, Goldie Copes, Mr. and Mrs. Travis Marks and Mrs. Evans.

Miss Douglass Pettiss, bride-elect of Bastrop, La., was guest of honor at a prenuptial party given by Mrs. J. R. Ellis of Bastrop. The entertainment took the form of an out-of-doors luncheon served on the lawn at Mrs. Ellis' home.

The honor guest wore a green and beige summer frock with brown and white accessories. Mrs. Ellis received guests in a navy blue redingote with white accents.

A green and white color scheme was used. It was reflected in the table settings and in the floral centerpiece.

A piece of silver in Miss Pettiss' chosen pattern, Chantilly, was the hostess' gift to her guest of honor.

Luncheon guests were Miss Pettiss, Mrs. Gerald Summerville, Miss Lola Belle Johnston, Mrs. Charles Turrentine, Miss Elizabeth Orr, Miss Florence Oliver and Miss Lillian Quinn.

Announcement has been made of the marriage of Miss Juanita Frith, daughter of Mrs. J. H. Frith, of Monroe, to Lawrence Sheffield of Vicksburg, Miss. The ceremony was performed October 2, 1940, at Port Gibson, Miss., with the Rev. Pope, pastor of the Presbyterian church at Port Gibson, officiating. Mr. and Mrs. Sheffield will make their home in Vicksburg, Miss.

Week-end guests in the home of Mr. and Mrs. F. C. Reynolds were their daughter, Miss Libby Reynolds, their sister, Mrs. S. B. Wall and daughter, Nell, and Misses Genevieve and Louise Cox, all of Baton Rouge, La.

CONVINCED MAJOR STABBED TO DEATH

LOS ANGELES, Sept. 2.—(AP)—County Autopsy Surgeon Dr. Frank R. Webb, who performed a post mortem on the exhumed body of Major George A. Tucker of Fort MacArthur, says he needs information held by the army to complete his report.

Fort MacArthur officials listed Major Tucker's death as due to a knife wound received while cutting bread. He died July 12 at Letterman hospital, San Francisco.

Dr. Webb said two operations and an autopsy had been performed at the San Francisco hospital, that he had requested reports on these through the adjutant general's office, but had received no reply.

Police Captain Vernon Rasmussen asserted Colonel W. W. Hicks of Fort MacArthur has refused to release the knife with which Major Tucker was fatally wounded.

"The injury occurred at the San Pedro home of Major Tucker, within the jurisdiction of civil authorities, so the army has no right to retain the knife," Rasmussen declared.

Detective Lieutenant Miles Ledbetter, who had Major Tucker's body exhumed, said:

"In my opinion the wound was not self-inflicted. We not only think that Major Tucker was stabbed to death, but we are going to try to prove it."

JONES SAYS HOUSE IN FAVOR OF LOAN

BATON ROUGE, La., Sept. 2.—(AP)—Governor Sam Jones said today that after receiving assurances the house of representatives favored it he had begun polling the legislature for authority to borrow $540,000 funds to maintain fiscal machinery for paying relief clients and operating state hospitals and institutions.

The governor said house leaders had informed him house members favored taking of the poll and that a majority of the Senate already had requested that one be taken.

The state administration seeks the sum to replace a special appropriation of $750,000 authorized by the state board of liquidation to operate the state finance department, charged under the governmental reorganization legislation with maintaining fiscal functions of the welfare department, certain hospitals and institutions, and other agencies.

One of the many court decisions affecting the Jones administration's handling of state affairs prevented the finance department from expending the $750,000 appropriation and Director Martin Close has announced the department would be unable to carry out state fiscal operations after September 15.

"Come what may," Governor Jones declared, "the welfare clients must be paid and the hospitals must be kept open."

He pointed out the $540,000 sum for which he is seeking legislative authority to borrow from banks for the finance department represents a reduction in the $750,000 originally earmarked for the finance department.

WOUNDED LAVAL IS ABLE TO SIT UP

VICHY, Unoccupied France, Sept. 2.—(AP)—Pierre Laval's physicians issued a bulletin this morning saying the former vice-premier, who was gravely wounded by an assassin's bullet at Versailles last Tuesday, was showing "progressive improvement."

The condition of Marcel Deat, Laval's newspaper friend, apparently was so much improved that his physicians did not bother to issue a bulletin today.

Laval was reported able to sit up in bed for a time and take food for the first time since the shooting.

Paul Colette, their young assailant, was expected to appear before an examining magistrate sometime today, with a defense attorney appointed against his will but in accordance with the law. The lad was visited in St. Pierre prison yesterday by his parents, who came from Caen to see him.

DEATHS

FOURMYS ATTEND FUNERAL

Mr. and Mrs. L. U. Fourmy, 1509 Spencer avenue, have just returned from New Iberia, where they were called because of the death of Mrs. Fourmy's brother-in-law, Earl Hine, 59, who died there Thursday.

Mr. Hine was a native of St. Mary parish, where he had managed a large plantation for some years. Subsequent to this he went to Cuba, where he had resided for the past 35 years. After he returned to New Iberia he became ill and had been in failing health for the past few months.

He leaves his wife, three sons, and other relatives. Mrs. Fourmy of Monroe is a sister of Mrs. Hine.

MISS JOSEPHINE LOMBARDO

TALLULAH, La., Sept. 2.—(Special)—The funeral of Miss Josephine Lombardo, of Newellton, who died in a New Orleans hospital on Friday, was held in the Catholic church on Sunday with Rev. Father Conley officiating. Interment was in the Newellton cemetery.

Miss Lombardo leaves her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Lombardo; two sisters, Misses Annette and Mariette Lombardo, and a brother, Dr. S. J. Lombardo, of Tallulah.

Pallbearers were Jack Poe, Edwin Pries, Earl Morris, Jimmie DeVincent, Anthony Scurria, Leon Arnold and Frank Testa.

more. Jacoby said the government must permit dealers to boost prices sufficently to offset their losses in sales volume, otherwise:

"Dealers will have to be kept in business on a curtailed basis by a direct government subsidy or will find it just about as cheap to close up and lose money as to stay open and lose money under the present government setup."

Jacoby asserted that if 90,000 dealers which the 17-state eastern conference members claim to represent would close their stations for only three or four days, "the nation would soon recognize the need for keeping them open. Even the defense program would feel it."

"As for the oil shortage that they say is the cause of it all," he continued, "I don't believe there is such a thing. I'd like them to show me. There are plenty of tank cars available to haul the oil east if the big companies wanted to pay the extra freight."

A railroad spokesman said carriers linking the gas-thirsty eastern seaboard with Texas and Oklahoma oil fields have slashed their crude oil freight rates 50 per cent to facilitate shipments but Samuel B. Eckert, Sun Oil vice-president in charge of sales, estimated not more than five per cent of the oil and gas used in the east could be moved by tank cars.

Demanding a greater voice for labor in the defense set-up, the union's officers levelled a bitter attack on what they called the "super government" of the United States—the Offices of Production Management, Emergency Management and Price Administration and Civilian Supply.

"The members of these bodies," they asserted, "were drawn largely from the leading personnel of the nation's largest corporations—many of them hostile to labor. Here and there certain officials of labor unions were invited into less important positions * * *. They were glorified office boys given a few errands to run."

OLD RAIL EQUIPMEN MAY PIONEER AGAI

ANTONIO, Colo., Sept. 2.—(AP)—Th last train over the narrow gauge Chil line chugged into Antonio from Santa Fe, N. M., 18 minutes late last nigh but the picturesque equipment whic helped open the old west 60 years ag may be headed for another pioneerin job instead of the scrap heap.

Officials of the Denver and Ri Grande railroad, abandoning th branch because of insufficient traffic said some of the equipment may b used in building and operating a proposed railroad paralleling the famous Burma road into China.

Such a road would penetrate a huge area hitherto untouched by railroad and would become a vital link i hauling supplies to the embattle country.

Crews will start ripping up the rail today, leaving Santa Fe the only stat capital without passenger train service.

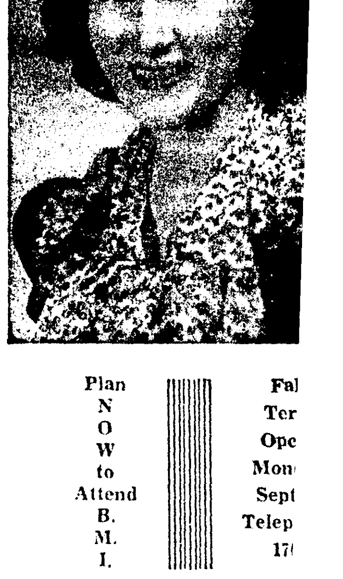
MISS WILMA STEGALL



Have you called the Chamber of Commerce recently? Then do so and let Miss Wilma Stegall give you her friendly, courteous services.

After receiving her diploma from B. M. I., where she made a most commendable record and took an active part in the student club, Sigma Phi of Beta Mu Iota, Miss Stegall went to work in the Welfare Office, Harrisonburg, Louisiana. She is now employed as secretary to Mr. G. D. Holland, Chamber of Commerce, Monroe, Louisiana. She graduated from Delhi High School in 1939.

The following is an excerpt from a letter from Miss Stegall:

"My choice for a career turned to commerce; the choice for a school to B. M. I., and never will I regret the day I entered this school. It has rewarded me with a wonderful job and close association with many fine people.

"Had it not been for the complete business course I was so fortunate to have had at B. M. I., very likely my present position would be that of 'plugging' away at some boresome job eight or ten hours a day, and for a small salary. Instead, my work is varied, leading me into every phase of office work with never a dull moment."

B. M. I. wishes Miss Stegall the best of everything in her future career.

MOST DAYLIGHT SAVING CLOCKS TO TURN BACK

Will Return To Standard Time On September 28 In Many Places

WASHINGTON, Sept. 2.—(AP)—Clocks in daylight saving areas, except the southeast, will be turned back to standard time as usual on the last Sunday of this month—September 28—unless individual localities desire or are requested by the federal government to do otherwise.

Only in the southeast has the federal power commission proclaimed a power emergency and requested advanced time as an electric energy saver. That area is a center of aluminum production, requiring huge amounts of electricity—and the southeast has been beset by a drouth.

Chairman Leland Olds said today the commission would not call for continuation of daylight time in any region throughout the fall and winter "unless there is a real power emergency" in that area, and he added that the situation in the southeast would be restudied to determine whether the fast time would be necessary through December, as now contemplated.

The power situation in Dixie has improved by summer rains that filled hydro-power reservoirs. Fast time was instituted by the governors of several southern states at the request of the president.

Mr. Roosevelt has asked congress for authority to blanket regions with daylight saving time whenever it becomes essential to conserve electric energy needed for defense purposs, and a bill to confer such power is now before congress.

Many cities and towns, especially in the industrial east, customarily advance their timepieces by one hour during the summer months and return to standard time the last Sunday in September.

However, if a power emergency should jeopardize defense production in any area, Olds said the commission would recommend daylight saving time—summer or winter.

Under the bill now before congress, the president could order clocks throughout the country, or in any part of the country, to be turned as much as two hours forward for the whole year. It was not expected, however, Mr. Roosevelt at any time would order a blanket advance for the whole country.

Daylight saving was adopted by congress during the World war as a power-saving device.

BUILDING, GROUNDS CHIEF

Hiram C. Pyburn (above) has begun his duties as superintendent of buildings and grounds at Louisiana Tech, succeeding L. A. Woodman, resigned, according to an announcement by Dr. Claybrook Cottingham, Tech president. Mr. Pyburn is a graduate of Louisiana Tech and a former student at Tulane university. For the last six years he has been senior foreman of labor at the Ruston CCC camp and previously was assistant chemist with the Sunnyland Dairy Products company at Ruston for five years. He was engaged in cost analysis work for the Arkansas-Louisiana Pipe Line company for several years.

RECEIVING CASH FOR IRON LUNG

Infantile Paralysis Cases In Other States Emphasize Need

A. N. Robinson, chairman of the Ouachita unit of the Louisiana Society of Crippled Children, states that checks are being received by Vice-President W. C. Oliver at the Ouachita National bank and by Vice-President John M. Breard, at the Central Savings Bank and Trust Company, for the puchase of an "iron lung" for the E. A. Conway hospital.

The fund has already passed the half-way point of the $3,000, estimated cost of the "lung."

Mr. Robinson is investigating the cost of the instrument and has found that prices range from $1,450 to $3,000 or more for "iron lungs."

He stated that it is desired to secure for the hospital the best type of "lung" so that it will be available for all types of patients and for this reason it may require the full $3,000.

Information received in Monroe is to the effect that infantile paralysis is so prevalent in Pennsylvania that schools in 10 counties have delayed their fall opening. Kentucky is said to have many cases and in Knoxville, Tenn., there are at this time nine cases and the city hospital there is raising money to secure an "iron lung" as today there is none in that city of more than 150,000 people. Chattanooga, Tenn., has just withdrawn permits for two circuses scheduled there last week on recommendation of city and county health officers because of the presence of infantile paralysis cases.

With these conditions existing in other Southern states, it is regarded all the more urgent that contributions be forthcoming promptly for the securing of an "iron lung" for the hospital here.

The War Today

By DeWitt MacKenzie
(Associated Press Foreign Affairs Writer)

We ought to hear a bit more from the Tokyo government before attaching too much finality to the rather fiery declaration by a spokesman of the Japanese army that Nippon will if necessary use force to fight her way out of what she terms encirclement by America, Britain, Russia and other nations.

This statement was broadcast by Colonel Mabuchi, chief of the army press section of imperial headquarters, who asserted that Japan was determined to carry out her Asiatic program even if it meant "a long-term war against Britain and America." Now that is very blunt language and it would be a mistake to under-estimate Japan's determination in this crisis.

Still, one suspects that the colonel was blowing his trumpet not so much with the idea that the walls of Jericho would fall as that he might strengthen Japan's hand in the projected negotiations in Washington.

Had the colonel and his military superiors been better advised as to the present temper of the American government toward the Japanese maneuvers in the Orient, probably the fighting speech would have been left undelivered. However, it perhaps will do no harm. Indeed, some observers thought President Roosevelt may have avoided reference to the far eastern situation in his Labor day broadcast in order to give diplomacy a chance to achieve an agreement.

The weakness of the Mabuchi statement to my mind is that if the United States, Britain and Russia were trying to encircle Japan, she would have small chance of fighting her way out by force. The encirclement which Japan fears is quite as much economic as military.

You may destroy an enemy warship with a 16-inch gun. But a shell won't demolish the fact that if Japan gets herself involved in a war with the United States, Britain and Russia she will cut herself off from essential supplies and from trade upon which her very life depends.

Few would doubt the bravery of the Japanese in battle, or their ability to absorb punishment. The cold truth is, however, that no matter how great Nippon's determination might be, she couldn't fight her way out of encirclement, because forsooth there's no place to which she could fight her way. The countries whose cooperation she vitally needs right now are, first, America, and after that Britain.

Of course, if Japan could establish military supremacy throughout the Far East she ultimately might repair her economic fortunes and make herself more or less self-sustaining through absorption of such rich territories as the Dutch East Indies and development of China. However, Japan's position now is critical and must be remedied immediately. She hasn't time to carry out such an extensive program because she hasn't the resources.

Delay in repairing her fortunes may spell disaster for the island empire. Already she is in serious straits because of the trade restrictions applied by Washington, and to a less extent by London. Relief from that must come by agreement and not by gunfire.

There is no doubt that Tokyo recognizes this fully, and the indications are that the Japanese government wants to make terms with America in the forthcoming negotiations, despite the talk of war. So long as this attitude continues, there is hope of a peaceful adjustment.

By the way:

Muscovites and Hitlerites today continue to issue conflicting claims of the disaster being inflicted on the other fellow. The significant point of this bloody conflict, however, is that there apparently has been little movement of the battle front for some days.

This means that the time is approaching rapidly when the Germans will find themselves forced to fight a winter campaign—unless they can break through the Red front in the very immediate future. The mere fact that the Nazis had to maintain a battle line in Russia would represent a major victory for the allies.

PHONE COMPANY NOW EXPANDING

Long Distance Calls Necessitate Building Miles Of New Circuits

Rapidly increasing long distance telephone traffic, much of it in Louisiana, has accelerated the need of additional facilities now being provided in a huge telephone company expansion program.

With a large portion of long distance traffic related directly to national defense, long distance calls in Louisiana during the first six months of 1941 showed a gain of 15 per cent over the corresponding period of 1940, the state manager, Mr. Vernon Baird, said Tuesday.

Louisianians placed 4,110,922 long distance calls in the first six-month period, as compared with 3,560,979 in 1940's first six months.

Construction of 3,913 miles of long distance circuits to fill the needs of defense and normal business and industrial expansion in Louisiana is one of the factors entering into huge new construction expenditures of Southern Bell Telephone company, which are expected to exceed $51,000,000 in the nine-state territory in 1941.

Mr. Baird said this year's new construction expenditure by the company during the busiest year in its history will be record breaking. The estimated new construction outlay will exceed by nearly $15,000,000 the amount spent for the same purposes last year when telephone activity in the nine states reached new heights.

Despite the telephone company's all-out efforts to meet the unprecedented demands for telephone service, its facilities are at times being operated at near-capacity, and occasional delays may be expected on some long distance calls, Mr. Baird stated.

The volume of long distance calls vital to defense purposes grow greater every day, he pointed out. Many of these calls are placed by officers and men at army and navy posts and by the personnel of defense industries, all of which are relying heavily on telephone communication. Messages from the general public have also increased.

All this increase sometimes causes circuits to become congested; long distance telephone users can make a definite contribution in this emergency, Mr. Baird said, by avoiding as much as possible placing long distance calls during the hours from 9 to 11 a.m. and 7 to 8:30 p.m.—so called "rush hours" when long distance calls are most frequent.

SEES 20,000,000 IN DEFENSE WORK

CHICAGO, Sept. 2.—(AP)—A prediction that 20,000,000 Americans will be in defense industry by 1944 and that a tremendous portion of these will have changed jobs to do so was made today by Dr. C. L. Shartle, government psychologist.

Dr. Shartle, with the United States employment service, described the huge job which faces psychologists in furnishing the methods for selecting men for the defense jobs. In his department 300 psychologists and assistants are working on selection problems for industry, army and navy.

He said women could do just about any job that men could, except only work requiring extra strength.

MOVIES FIND FREEDOM GONE FROM HARBOR

Marines And Sailors Take Films After Filming Job Starts

SAN PEDRO, Calif., Sept. 2.—(AP)—Freedom of the seas may be national policy, but there's no freedom of Los Angeles harbor for the movies.

For years, picture makers have performed with impunity inside, outside and around the breakwater. The harbor has been the locale of sea shots in settings from Shanghai around the world to Hawaii.

But Actor Eddie Albert and company learned the hard way that it isn't being done any more.

So 500 feet of film is locked up tight aboard a battleship and only the fast talking of Albert and Director Irving Applebaum—who learned the art in Hollywood, where you win a point by out-talking somebody else—saved the cameras.

There's no official navy version, but here's Applebaum's:

"We were shooting a scene from Albert's yacht Cynthia for a new adventure picture he's making yesterday afternoon. A boatload of marines and sailors looms up. They're from the battleship Nevada and just like that they're swarming on board.

"What are we doing? they ask. We're shooting a movie, we tell them. They're sorry, they say, but they've orders to seize the film and the cameras. We talked and talked and finally they agreed to let us keep the cameras.

"But off they went with the film. The officers in charge said it would be developed and if it didn't show any battleships we could have it back. He was a little disturbed, because he said the navy has no equipment for developing movie film, but he said it would be done."

Interested, but non-interfering spectators were two army officers, Captain Henry Fine and Lieutenant James Cockran of Tucson, Ariz. Fine, a friend of Albert and a former movie actor's agent, had brought Cochran aboard to watch the shooting.

DOVES DRIVEN AWAY BY ARMY MANEUVERS

LANCASTER, Calif., Sept. 2.—(AP)—The dove season opened here, as elsewhere in California, yesterday. But to hunters it was just a date, it didn't mean anything.

Bags were few and far between in the Antelope valley, normally a paradise for nimrods. And ranchers have an explanation. They blame it on national defense.

With the army's new bombing range at Muroc Dry lake and anti-aircraft ranges stretching across the desert, farmers say the timorous, peaceful dove has sought a quieter clime. They recall that a few years ago, when the expansive ranches went modern with noisy tractors, the birds vanished, but returned the next year.

Maybe, the farmers say, allergies to airplanes and guns will be overcome by next season.

The heating systems of modern stratoliners weigh approximately 457 pounds.

The 'New Disorder' In Europe

The dull, sickening crash of the guillotine sounds in Paris, and the old Sante prison runs red with blood as the pages of history flip back 150 years.

What is the crime of Frenchmen who are dying today in Paris at the hands of Frenchmen? They are against the Germans. Yes, it has come to that! Frenchmen are dying in Paris in 1941 because they are against the Germans and against a kind of German system that the German conquerors of 1870 dared not even try to inflict on beaten Frenchmen.

The script for the next act is already written—written by Hitler himself years ago in "Mein Kampf." He personally admired the stern measures which the French took when they occupied the Ruhr, especially as the ineffective measures taken by his political opponents within Germany to defeat them were grist for his mill. But as he watched the feeble attempts of the Cuno government to combat the French occupation, Hitler himself set down what he would do if he were the French. What should an occupying army do if sabotage, passive resistance, and such tactics finally get in its hair? Hitler's answer for putting "a ghastly finish" to this "childish mischief" in a week was "the most violent, bloodiest persecution."

This, one may be sure, his vice fuehrers in France will now carry on. Every decent person in France who has at any time been reluctant to cheer and whoop for Nazism now stands in danger of his life. And we may be sure, on the formula long since established as early as the Reichstag fire of 1933, that everyone who is arrested, killed, or otherwise punished will be set down as a Communist plotter.

But not by the Germans themselves. This also Hitler noted: that in the case of conquered countries there are always people who "contrive to feel not so badly, since they not infrequently are entrusted by the crafty victors with the job of slave overseer, which these characterless natures then exercise over their own people, at that generally more heartlessly than any alien beast placed over them by the enemy himself."

Should there be any in France who seem increasingly well described by such graphic phrases, we hope Monsieur Henri-Haye will remember that they are Hitler's phrases, not ours.

Manhattan

By GEORGE TUCKER

NEW YORK—The Marseillaise. No one ever plays it anymore. That doesn't make sense. Not for New York. Not for here, where music means so much financially and otherwise.

I listen to fifteen or twenty radio programs a day. I get around to perhaps a dozen restaurant and night clubs a week where insatiable crowds demand an ever increasing variety of music. I hear folk songs. . . . I hear reborn World war ditties. . . . I hear mountain music, and even hymns.

But I never hear the Marseillaise. I can't understand it. For here is spirit, and fire, in a city that dotes on spirit and fire. Here is a tune that is "catchy" in a town that eats, sleeps, and breathes "catchy" tunes.

Tommy Dorsey has a great organization. . . . He plays everything, from hillbilly tunes to jazzed classics. . . . But, he doesn't play the Marseillaise. Sammy Kaye, Larry Clinton, Bennie Goodman, Eddy Duchin, Ben Bernie, Glenn Miller, Orrin Tucker, Kay Kyser, Artie Shaw—these boys live and die by music. . . . Their arrangers can turn a goat-herder's grunt into rhythmic patterns that would charm your ears off. . . . But I've never heard any of them, not one of them, touch the Marseillaise.

Why? Frankly, I don't know. I just can't understand why.

Several of us were talking about this the other night in a restaurant. The orchestra played Russian folk tunes. It played Londonderry aires. It played boogie-woogie and it played "Arms for the Love of America."

But it didn't play the Marseillaise. I went over to the leader and requested the number. He was surprised. It just never had occurred to him to have an arrangement made. He couldn't play it. This was surprising, for, as you already know, the Marseillaise is one of the dramatic songs of all time. The experiences of its composer read like a chapter out of Alexander Dumas.

The composer's name was Rouget de Lisle, a captain of Engineers in the French army. . . . He was quartered in Strassburg, and the mayor of that town went to de Lisle and asked him to write a patriotic song for the soldiers of Luckner's army.

De Lisle said he would try, and that night he went to his lodgings in the Maison Bockel and began to play his violin. . . . As he fiddled around the strains just seemed to come to him. . . . He composed it then and there, and next morning he delivered to the mayor of Strassburg the song that shortly was to inspire the whole world.

You know what happened to de Lisle after that. The French revolution broke out. . . . The song was caught up as the very cry for freedom that Frenchmen had been looking for. . . . Curiously enough, de Lisle himself was imprisoned. . . . He almost lost his head. . . . But finally, after Ropespierre's fall, he was released.

De Lisle's mother, however, was an ardent royalist. . . . As Sigmund Spaeth records in his book, "Stories Behind the World's Great Music," she turned to her son and said: "What do people mean by associating our name with the revolutionary hymn which those brigands sing?"

All this was 149 years ago. . . . Broadway, with its mania for music, plays 149 songs a minute. It plays anything, and everything, and no questions asked.

HOLLYWOOD, September 2.—One Tom Brennan of Glendale, Calif., introduces himself in this ayem's mail as a crusader for something "different" in screen entertainment. After arguing his firm conviction that audiences are apt to be bored by too many versions of the same plot, he offers, gratis, the following innovations for one of the inevitable college dramas that will flood the screen this fall.

1. The hero isn't a freshman—because all heroes have to be football players, and freshmen aren't eligible for varsity ball. . . . 2. When he makes the winning touchdown, dialogue and plot denouements make it clear that the other 10 squad members had something to do with it, too. 3. In no scene do you see Betty Grable's legs or Carole Landis' legs or another gee-gee's legs—because this is not a coeducational school. 4. The crabby old professor who was going to flunk the hero before the winning touchdown, is true to his convictions and flunks him in spite of the winning t.d. 5. The hero's roommate, who is not a puny, bookwormish little fellow, doesn't defend the hero when he's accused of being yellow. 6. The hero is yellow.

Mr. Brennan admits his plot might be a bit boresome, but, he argues wisely, nearly all college pictures are boresome—and this one, at least, would be boresome in a slightly different fashion. Besides, it could be played as a second feature, and since audiences invariably sleep through the second feature, what's the difference?

It's all very logical, and I think Mr. Brennan is a man with great possibilities as a Hollywood producer or writer.

What's News: Louisville's Fred Levy, Jr., Renee De Marco's next, is at Cal-Neva lodge (near Reno) until she gets her divorce. . . . The late Joe Penner's widow is producing stage units for coast-to-coast bookings. . . . Watch the Claire Windsor-Adriel (Boston socialite) Bird romance for elopement news. . . . What happened to Harry Carey's announced plan to desert Hollywood? He's sold his Long Island (NY) home. . . . Ethel Barrymore Colt (Ethel's dotter) got that engagement sparkler from Harold Bromley, summer-theater producer. . . . Reported from NY: Alice Faye, Frank Fay and nite-club entertainer Frances Faye chatting under a marquee billing Fay Wray. . . . Ken Silvestri, NY Yankee catcher, is holding the curves of Gene Briton, Broadway singer. . . . Reno newshawks think Tommy Guinan, brother of the late Texas, is wed to Gonda McKinney, who divorced millionaire-jockey Rigan McKinney.

Confidential Communiques to: Paulette Goddard: News about you being ordered to bed for a month's rest because of over-work is very touching, but considerably offset by your constant late-hour appearances in night clubs during recent months. . . . George "New Papa" Fine: Thanks for interrupting your worried hospital pacing to phone of Marlene Dietrich's arrival with a broken ankle. . . . 14-year-old Ann Gillis: Your neighbors are complaining about your parties, which they say are "respectable" but noisy, sometimes lasting until sunrise and giving them no chance to sleep. They're threatening to do something.

Memories: When Gary Cooper, after pondering an interviewer's query as to whether he'd eventually marry a blonde, brunette or redhead, answered: "The person I marry will be a girl!" . . . When Joan Blondell seeing George (then her husband) Barnes bested at fisticuffs by another man, stepped in and gave the stranger a perfect kayo. . . . When Greta Garbo icily refused an autographed photo requested, via diplomatic channels, by King Carol of Rumania. . . . When Lupe Velez, flourishing a big saber in the den of her Beverly Hills manse to demonstrate her father's prowess as a swordsman, made a reckless sweep and shattered one of her prized antique vases. . . . When Barbara La Marr, en route to a movie location, detoured five miles out of her way because a black cat crossed the road.

Our Children

By ANGELO PATRI

IGNORE CHILD'S USE OF BAD WORDS

Granny whispered to mother, "Jimmy is using language. He'll likely try it out when he comes in. Don't take the slightest notice of him and he will soon drop it."

Jimmy entered the sitting-room where his mother and Granny were sewing and, swaggering a bit, he loudly pronounced the new words he had acquired. Nobody spoke. Mother carefully threaded a needle and Granny as carefully set stitches along her hem. Jimmy tried again, this time directly addressing his mother and asking to have his adjectived wagon put in the unmentionable place out of there.

Mother took another stitch, yawned and asked, "What was that you asked for, Jimmy? Whatever it was just go and get it because I'm rather tired after working all morning. You might bring me that pillow from the big chair. I think I'll take a nap. You can play in the garage if you like, with your new blocks. The ones Aunt Minna gave you for Christmas, you know. Ask Don if he wants to come too, and this afternoon, when I am rested, I'll take you both in the car to see the new road and meet Daddy. Thanks. That's fine."

Mother had talked so far away from those words and the wagon, had kept Jimmy so occupied one way and the other, that he quite forgot that new accomplishment for the time. He would, and did, remember it again, but once more he found no audience, nobody to regard it as out of the ordinary, so he began to think that maybe it wasn't such a great idea anyway.

One day he said, "Ma, do you know that Sam Holly says bad words?"

"No. Does he really?"

"Yes, he does. Words like—"

"Oh, don't bother with his bad words. You know everybody knows them the same as Sammy does, but only ill-bred little boys think of using them that way. It's silly."

"What are bad words for if you don't use them, Ma?"

"They aren't bad words. The words are all right. The badness comes of using them in the wrong place, at the wrong time, just dragging them in by the heels for show off, like. Showing off is always silly, don't you think so?"

"Yeah, I think so. William shows off like anything. We call him show-off 'cause he is like that, always showing off and being smart and silly. Only he doesn't say bad words like Sam."

"Well, Sam will learn better. He's only a little boy. You are bigger and smarter. You are too smart to be silly with words. What's the nicest word you know? You tell me and I'll tell you."

"You tell me first."

"The nicest word I know is, Jimmy."

"'N the nicest one I know is Ma. Can I have a piece of chocolate?"

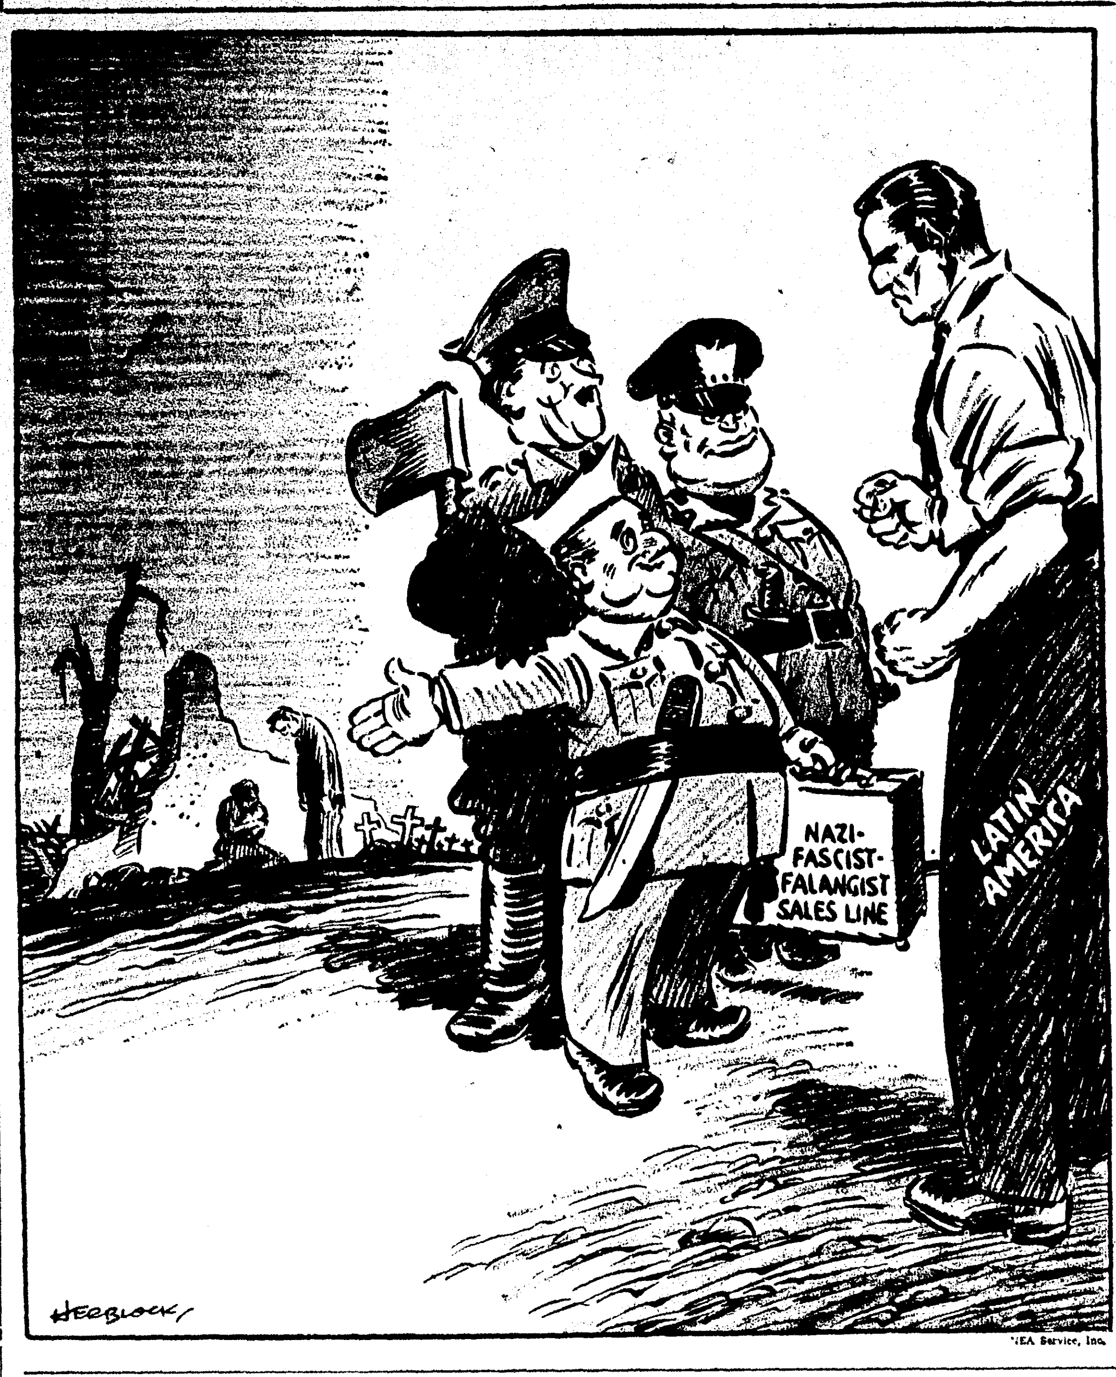
'LOOK WHAT WE DID FOR SPAIN!'



Washington Daybook

By Jack Stinnett

WASHINGTON — Answering the mail:

K. W., South Bend, Ind.—There were approximately 20,000,000 pounds of scrap aluminum collected in the nation-wide drive. It was not given to the aluminum companies. It was sold to them at the maximum market price, according to OPM officials. The receipts from this sale went into "miscellaneous receipts" of the United States treasury. Consequently these contributions were a gift to the United States defense program.

P. D. M., Cleveland, O.—The first step in obtaining a defense job, I would say, would be to register with your state employment service. Following that, you undoubtedly will be interviewed and perhaps given tests. From there, you might be shunted directly into a defense job or told where to go for additional training in your field.

T. L., Amarillo, Tex.—There's no mystery, army air officers say, about why some bombers fly low while others try to fly out of sight and sound. It all depends on what defenses the enemy has. If the attack depends on surprise and an effort to forestall enemy fighters from getting into the air (plus clear weather), then high-lying bombers may get in and out before they can be seen, heard or attacked. On the other hand, if conditions are overcast, bombers flying just over the telephone wires have the advantage of being able to see their objectives at close range; anti-aircraft can't spot them soon enough to take aim; enemy fighters won't dive for fear they will be carried right into the ground before they can pull out of it; and they can't attack from below because there's no flying space there.

N. R. K., Fort Smith, Ark.—The loops of braided cord which appeared around the right shoulder of Captain Elliott Roosevelt and Ensign Franklin D. Roosevelt, Jr., in their recent picture at the meeting of President Roosevelt and Winston Churchill meant that they were aides on the staff. Regimental citations for bravery appear only in loops from the left shoulder.

H. O'N, Weehawken, N. J.—There have been several plans suggested for elimination of overcrowded living and office conditions in Washington. One put forward recently by a national architectural magazine embraces almost all of them. In three parts, it suggests: (1) Decentralization of all departments and agencies not absolutely needed here; (2) Temporary building (with emphasis on the "temporary"); (3) Limiting defense personnel. The last, it is claimed, would result in delegation of some defense responsibilities to private industry. This isn't made thoroughly clear, but, as it was explained to me, industries with defense contracts would be charged with keeping intact certain records (which might be audited later by government officials) rather than duplicating the work, as it is done now, in Washington.

L. W. S., Canton, O.—The reference to Monday-to-Thursday adjournments in congress is only a way of taking a little vacation (without actual adjournment) during slack or rest periods. In both houses, the majority and minority leaders make a gentlemen's agreement that no important business will be transacted. Then, on Monday and Thursday of each week, the houses meet, run through a few formalities and adjourn again.

S. H., Eufaula, Okla.—The opinion here is that you need not expect automobiles with plastic bodies for a good many years yet. The history of any new products, supplanting an established one, is that the changeover takes several years. Even if any auto manufacturer had produced a plastic body at the same time, they still would have to go through the slow periods of testing and retooling and testing again, before they could go all out for the new material.

P. B., Butte, Mont.—Officers and non-coms from England, Canada, and 16 Latin-American countries are now or soon will be training with United States forces. With the exception of the Canadians, all of these are men training in the air corps. The Canadian officer and non-com trainees not in aviation are in the tank corps.

SHIRLEY TEMPLE'S PONY SPUNKY DIES

HOLLYWOOD, Sept. 2.—(AP)—Spunky is dead, unbroken to the last.

Spunky was Shirley Temple's seven-year-old Shetland pony, imported for her from the Shetland isles by Movie Maker Joseph M. Schenck. He succumbed last night after a week's illness.

Spunky had just one drawback. He wouldn't let Shirley, or anyone else ride him. He bucked and bit and stamped. But he did let the curly-haired child actress pet him and feed him, and that made her happy.

She was "awfully sad," she said, at his passing.

MADE UP TO KILL

by Kelley Roos

Chapter 28

Strange Fact

"YOU understood, Steve," Jeff went on, "that Morris had never heard the name before. Yes, that's his story and he has stuck to it through everything."

"Why, Jeff?"

"That's one of the things I want Morris to tell us." Then Jeff went on musingly. "You know the funny thing about all this Lee Gray business is that the police were on the right track from the very beginning, only they didn't stay on it long enough. Their theory was that Lee Gray was someone in the Green Apples company, someone who had signed an assumed name to that note, thinking that Carol would understand it. It would have been difficult for an outsider to have got into the theater, up to Carol's dressing room and out again without being seen by anyone. But a very simple thing for a person in the company. They followed their theory for a little while. They checked that note with the handwriting of everybody in the cast, even the men's, although the writing was obviously feminine. But they missed checking one person. . . ."

"Who?" Carol breathed.

He looked at her quietly. "You."

Her hand went clutchingly to her throat. "I? But, Jeff, it was . . . the note was . . ."

Steve wheeled on Jeff, his face dark and stormy. "What are you talking about, Jeff? That note was sent to Carol. Why should they check her handwriting?"

"That's what we all thought. That's where we made our first mistake. Just because the note was found in her purse we assumed that she had been the recipient. We weren't bright enough to realize the truth. The truth was that Carol wrote the note herself and it was found before she had a chance to send it."

I laughed and the sound fell like a dull clatter in the tense silence of the room. "But, Jeff, it's silly, it's . . ."

"Look at Carol."

Her eyes were fastened on Jeff's face, held there as if hypnotized. Her lips parted and trembled, but there was no denial on them.

Jeff continued. "You wrote that note, didn't you, Carol?"

"Yes." It was hardly more than a whisper.

"And you left it in your purse where the police found it. I'm not positive to whom it was written but if I had three guesses, all of them would be Greeley Morris. Right?"

She nodded dully. "Yes. It was to Greeley Morris."

Steve said, "Carol!" and put his hand softly on her arm. She brushed it off with a gentle movement, her eyes still clinging to Jeff, and she didn't seem to know that it was Steve who spoke or Steve who touched her.

"And the thing you had to see him about, that thing which was so important, was to ask him not to tell anyone that you were Lee Gray."

She said, her voice a monotone, "Yes. How did you know, Jeff?"

The Right Clue

"I GUESS I'm getting to be a detective. Haila told me that the reason you had such a tough time getting a start on the stage was because you were such a bad first reader, that you had to work into a part before you could do anything with it. Then yesterday Clint Bowers remarked about your wonderful first reading for him, that after he heard you Alice McDonald didn't have a chance for the part of Dina. I should have got it then.

"But I had to be re-cued and Tommy Neilson did it for me. He was in Bowers' office, he said, the first time you walked in, and that you didn't give a reading, you gave a performance. And it dawned on me at last that for being a bad first reader you were sure knocking them over right and left.

"I reached out and took a guess. Maybe you gave such a spectacular first reading because it wasn't a first reading at all. Maybe you knew that part. But how could you? The play was done in England. When Haila and I were visiting Morris at the Gotham I noticed that he had a half-dozen scrapboks overflowing with clippings. I got in his room while he was out and. . . ."

"How in the world did you get in his room, Jeff?" I asked.

"It was tough. Even after I convinced a chambermaid that I was a detective, I had to give her ten dollars and my fraternity pin with promises. We're engaged, but I think I can break it. She doesn't know my name. Besides I wouldn't marry a girl that didn't trust me. She watched me while I read Morris' scrapbook so I wouldn't swipe anything. Well, I found the London notices of Green Apples, no Carol Blanton. But the play was tried out in Manchester, and playing Dina was a girl name Leila Gray. I knew from the review who Leila Gray was. The critic described you pretty minutely, Carol. He raved abou you."

Steve's fingers beat a nervous rhythm on my mantelpiece. He was watching Carol quietly, his face a stony question. She said, not looking in his direction: "I'll tell you about it if you want me to. There isn't any use hiding it now."

"No," Jeff said. "Maybe if you tell us everything we can help you."

"Carol Blanton's my real name. My mother's name was Leila Gray and I liked it. I took it when I went to London.

"Mother died when I was a baby, my father when I was sixteen. I was all alone. I found a job in a department store. I hated Salt Lake City, I hated the store and I hated everything about my life. I wanted to be an actress. And I saved my money, the little I earned.

"I finally saved four hundred dollars and then I won a dramatic prize that a woman's club gave. That was enough to go to London and enroll in the Royal Academy there. I'd dreamed about that for years. For the first time in my life I had what I wanted.

"There was nothing to remind me of that store. I had a little room, all mine, and new clothes and new work. A brand-new life in a brand-new country. Everything was wonderful, the way I'd planned it to be. It was while I was at the Academy that I met Greeley Morris."

She stopped and passed her hand wearily before her eyes. Steve had stopped his drumming and there was only the sound of our breathing in the room.

Cruelty

"HE came to see our graduating exercises, along with a lot of other playwrights and producers and directors, all the really big people in the London theater. My performance had been good, he said; perhaps he could use me. He had a play now with a part that I might fit. He thought I had some talent, might someday make an actress of myself. I suppose he did like my acting, too. But that wasn't the reason he gave me the part of Dina in Green Apples.

"I worked for him. Oh, how hard I worked! He was nasty and sarcastic and sometimes I wanted to cry in front of everybody. But then I wouldn't. I was learning to be an actress. I had a part on the stage. Everything was wonderful, too wonderful." She smiled bitterly. "Well, it was so far.

"Just before we opened in Manchester he started at me. Coming into my dressing room and pawing at me, following me home nights and everywhere I went. He wanted me to live with him and I . . . I hated him. You don't know Greeley Morris. Oh, yes, you saw him in Clint Bowers' office, but you don't know him. You think I'm frightened now because someone's trying to kill me, but I was more frightened then.

"I locked my door at night, pushed the bureau in front of it. I carried sandwiches into my room and ate them there because I was afraid to go out. And at the theater, all those days and those nights, every minute of it was agony. He's . . . oh, I can't describe him to you. I can't!"

Greeley Morris' dark, sardonic face rose before me. I didn't need Carol to describe him to me.

"It was the fourth night that we played Manchester that it happened. I was crazy with all those weeks of being afraid of Greeley Morris. I didn't know what I was doing any more. I walked onto the stage and stood there. I couldn't remember anything, my lines were gone. I could hear the prompter but I couldn't say the words. The audience was all laughing, some of them started to hoot. I . . . I just walked off. They brought the curtain down, put in the understudy. And Greeley Morris was waiting for me in my dressing room.

She stopped, her eyes dark with the horror of remembering. For the first time she looked at us "You're wondering why I didn' quit. I couldn't. It wouldn't have done me any good. I knew couldn't hide from him if he wanted to find me. And I . . . needed the job.

"A few nights later it happened again, I forgot my lines almost a the same place. This time I didn' go back to my dressing room. walked straight out into th street, my costume on and m make-up on. I walked out into th street. I went home.

"The next day I started lookin for a job. It wasn't any goo There wasn't a manager in Lor don who would let me work fo him. Morris had got there firs They knew I was unreliable; the knew I had memory lapses o stage. I had walked out of Greele Morris' show.

FALLS TO DEATH AS FIANCEE HUNTS HIM

FORT COLLINS, Colo., Sept. 2.—(AP)—Duane Smith fell 300 feet to his death from a ledge on Grayrock mountain yesterday while his fiancee sought to aid him.

Smith left his sweetheart, Alice Mefford, on the Grayrock mountain trail to climb up the steep face of the mountain that towers high above the rim of Poudre canon.

While she walked on up the trail he became trapped on the ledge, unable to climb up or down.

He called to her for help, and she heard his cries, but she became lost when she tried to find him.

Thousands of tons of rubber could be saved yearly for national defense, according to P. E. Massey, manager of Massey Service Station, if motorists would safeguard the "health" of their tires. Studies made by B. F. Goodrich company engineers showed, he said, that every time a motorist drives with tires that are underinflated or out of line, takes curves too fast, drives at sustained high speeds, spins tires in a quick start, skids them to a sudden stop, or bumps them into curbs, rubber is being destroyed and tires worn out before their time.

attack by big Russian tanks which, in their first sweep forward, crushed 20 German tanks and put others out of action.

Altogether, the attacking Germans were said to have lost 99 tanks, 100 trucks, 10 armored cars, 50 motorcycles, 60 cannon and many lighter arms. A thousand Germans were reported killed.

An official announcement last night said the Red air fleet attacked the Berlin district Sunday night after a bombing sweep westward across Memel, Koenigsberg and Danzig.

The Russians said large fires were started in all of the cities attacked.

(The Germans said planes approaching from the east that night failed to reach Berlin.)

NAZIS SAY SOVIET POSITIONS STORMED

BERLIN, Sept. 2.—(AP)—German infantry stormed important Soviet positions on heights in the northern sector of the front yesterday, the news agency DNB reported today, and held them against repeated heavy Russian counter-attacks.

Eight of ten Red army batteries which sought to hold up the German advance in the north were reported to have been destroyed in a furious artillery duel and, in the south, Stuka dive-bombers struck their first blow of the war at peninsular Crimea.

A ring of steel was said to be closing about Leningrad.

DNB said German troops, despite difficult terrain and weather conditions, had destroyed Russian units north of Luga yesterday and seized much booty, vehicles and guns, mired in swamps.

South of Lake Ilmen, the news agency said, the Soviet forces showed "extraordinarily tenacious and bitter resistance," but the Germans overcame them and continued their advance. Lake Ilmen is 100 miles south of Leningrad.

German sources said the Russians suffered heavy losses at the hands of Finns in the Viipuri area above Leningrad, tabulations thus far listing 143 cannon and 64 tractors.

On the southern sector, 1,200 prisoners were reported captured and nine Soviet tanks and 14 planes were declared destroyed.

NOTHING NEW SEEN IN ROOSEVELT TALK

ROME, Sept. 2.—(AP)—Fascist circles responded to President Roosevelt's speech today by quoting Adolf Hitler's forecast of "a war of life or death" and declaring that Germany and Italy would win.

Hitler's remarks to British Ambassador Sir Nevile M. Henderson at their last meeting—"it will be a war of life or death"—were widely recalled as the Axis powers started the third year of the war with expressions of confidence in the outcome.

Fascists said they found nothing new in President Roosevelt's assertion that the United States would "do everything in its power to crush Hitler and his Nazi forces."

They recalled that he and Prime Minister Churchill spoke of "the final destruction of Nazi tyranny" in their eight points.

Such talk, Il Lavoro Fascista said, is "miserable rhetoric which brings about nothing."

Italy has taken the view that the United States can prolong the war by supplying Britain, but can do nothing to win it.

Virginio Gayda, Fascist editor of Il Giornale D'Italia, said Hitler and Premier Mussolini prepared in their Russian front conference for "a new phase in the war offensive against British forces."

"No compromised peace," he said, "is now any longer possible."

NYE IS CRITICAL OF F. D. R. TALK

WASHINGTON, Sept. 2.—(AP)—Senator Nye, Republican, North Dakota, asserted today that President Roosevelt's Labor day address was the "usual appeal to the fears of the American people," but many other members of congress found much in the speech to applaud.

Capital reaction was limited as many legislators were out of town for the holiday.

Nye said the president's remarks ought to be received warmly in Great Britain "where they try to plant the assurance that we will be in the war with everything we have, including men." The American public, the senator added, "continues to say 'no' to giving any aid other than that short of war."

The acting Republican leader of the house, Representative Michener, of Michigan, said that the country would "hail the president's declaration that industry and labor must cease mussing up the defense program."

"No more lockouts and no more strikes in defense work is what the people expect," he added.

MODERATES ASK FRIENDLY ROLE TOWARD ALLIES

and with reed mats under which to take refuge in their gardens.

The shipment of American war supplies to Russia via Vladivostok—the first shipload of aviation gasoline is now nearing that port—has brought Japan to the cross-roads of her policy. What she will do beyond her present representations against the Vladivostok shipments is the big question.

With the battle of Russia again pivoting on Leningrad and with the Germans checked if not actually on the defensive along the rest of the sprawling front, international attention centered on Japan.

For the fifth consecutive day the Red army pictured the front as stabilized, Germany's deep-spearing panzer divisions finally brought to heel. The Germans themselves shifted emphasis to their air force, reporting it had spanned far beyond the Dnieper for its first attack on Crimea while also helping to force a ring of steel around Leningrad.

Berlin reports conveyed the impression that the battle for Russia's second city, at the head of the Gulf of Finland, focus of both German and Finnish forces, was nearing its climax. But the Germans have spoken thus before.

President Roosevelt's avoidance of the touchy Japanese situation in his Labor day speech, an omission generally accepted as evidence of a desire not to impair current diplomatic negotiations with Japan, was matched by no such reticence in Tokyo.

There an army spokesman declared that Japan would use force if necessary to break "encirclement" by the United States, Britain and other nations, and a foreign office spokesman indicated that Japan was renewing representations to Washington of her concern over American shipment of war supplies to Russia through Vladivostok, the Soviet Union's Pacific port of entry on the Sea of Japan.

Concurrently General Senjuro Hayashi, director of the powerful Asia Development Federation, disclosed that Premier Prince Konoye had agreed to consider a proposal to set up a "safety zone" embracing the ocean area adjacent to the Japanese islands.

Japanese have spoken in the past of expanding their territorial waters to bring all water routes leading into Vladivostok within their sovereignty. The extent of the now proposed safety zone was not disclosed.

The Asia Development Federation included the proposal in a resolution calling for speedy settlement of the war in China and establishment of the Japanese-envisaged "co-prosperity sphere."

"The United States of late has unreasonably tightened economic pressure against Japan," the resolution asserted.

"This attempt on one hand to check our activities and on the other to supply materials to nations hostile to our axis powers evidently is to put the European war on a long-term basis.

"We must reject all such actions on the part of the United States."

Authoritative Japanese declared that President Roosevelt's Labor day speech showed that the Atlantic agreement between him and British Prime Minister Churchill had now become the highest foreign policy of the United States.

The foreign office spokesman declined for the present to comment, but the Japan Times and Advertiser, considered a mouthpiece of the foreign office, noted the president's remark that Americans are not a warlike people, and commented:

"There are other means of aggression than the use of armies."

The newspaper said that United States aggressiveness in the orient dated back to acquisition of the Philippines and charged that "warlike methods have been applied to prevent the attainment of a peaceful China."

First European axis reaction came from Rome where it was asserted that Mr. Roosevelt's pledge to do everything possible to crush Hitlerism was inspired by personal hatred for Germany and Italy.

The president, said Il Popolo di Roma, "Does not hesitate to declare loudly that he is motivated by implacable hatred against the axis powers, and his action, inspired by his personal sentiment . . . will be conducted to the end regardless of the different opinion of any Americans."

The British press called the speech the president's most direct challenge to the Nazis and the London Daily Mail's New York correspondent reported that it was being interpreted "as foreshadowing imminent adoption of convoys—escorting American-made war supplies to the battlefronts by American warships."

The Times of London said the speech "should put an end to the tendency which had begun to make itself felt on both sides of the Atlantic to question the effectiveness of American help in the fight against Hitlerism and the determination by which it is inspired."

Authorized quarters in Berlin held that the president's speech had developed "nothing new whatever" as to foreign policy but that it revealed Mr. Roosevelt, from the domestic viewpoint, "in the role of Kerensky."

Elaborating, they said that Alexander Kerensky, Russian Socialist leader who was briefly premier during the early stages of the revolution in 1917, tried to use bolshevism for his imperialistic plans only to learn that "bolshevism goes it own way." Similarly, they declared, Mr. Roosevelt now is "flirting with bolshevism to use it for his own ends."

The spokesmen said there was a discrepancy in the Roosevelt utterances: emphasis on the rights of workers, in phrases directed toward Moscow, and on the other hand, an expression of principles, such as religious freedom, "which bolshevism can never acknowledge."

The Germans said the president forgot to mention "the most important freedom—the right to work."

Vacation resorts entertained their last big week-end crowds of the official summer season. And sports events lost none of their lure for stay-at-homes—the big league baseball games alone drew some 176,000 fans.

The somber side of the holiday week-end was the heavy death toll from motor fatalities and other mishaps. The total, topping the 514 fatalities of 1940's Labor day, passed the 600 mark.

HOLIDAY DEATH TOLL UP TO 614

Near Lajunta, Colo., a bumper fell from an automobile. The car's wheels hurled it through a window of a passing car where it struck and killed a 10-year-old girl passenger.

A runaway automobile plunged down a steep hill and into a wedding party outside the bride's home in Pottsville, Pa. The bride, bridegroom and seven guests were injured, one seriously.

Two-year-old Geraldine Kosentos of McKeesport, Pa., burned to death when a match accidentally fell into her grass hula skirt, setting it afire.

Duane Smith, 19, of Fort Collins, Colo., fell 300 feet down a mountainside to his death.

In Chicago, four persons were injured when a huge Brahma bull broke from a rodeo corral and charged into a holiday throng. Two policemen were gored before it was killed.

California led in traffic accident deaths with 46. Ohio had 28 and Illinois 27. Michigan had the most drownings, 15, and Ohio the most fatalities from miscellaneous causes, 13.

CRASH DEATHS BRING MANSLAUGHTER CHARGE

MONTICELLO, Miss., Sept. 2.—(AP)—County Attorney John H. Arrington Monday filed charges of manslaughter and reckless and unlawful driving against Alton Wilson of Monticello, who Arrington said was one of the drivers involved in a collision early Sunday in which four residents of Galveston, Tex., were killed.

Arrington charged Wilson was negligent in not having a rear light on the truck he was driving. The party of Texans, three of whom were natives of Magee, crashed into the rear end of the truck two miles west of Magee.

Wilson was being held in the Monticello jail.

COUNT AND 2 AMERICANS IN MISSING PLANE

Eng., principal technical officer, British air ministry.

Colonel L. H. Wrangham, imperial army.

The crew:

Captain Kenneth Garden, Coogie, Sydney, Australia.

First Officer Geoffrey L. Panes, Tonbridge, Kent, England.

Radio Officer Samuel Walter Sydenham, Edmonton, Alberta.

The ferry command, whose airmen fly new American-made bombing planes to Britain and bring fliers to the American side of the ocean for more, suffered two serious crashes recently which took a toll of 44 lives, including those of 18 Americans. On August 10 a plane taking off from England for North America, returning pilots for new assignments, crashed and killed 22, including seven Americans. Four days later in an almost identical accident a second returning plane crashed and burned, killing another 22, including 11 Americans.

Planes flying to England, such as the one reported missing today, frequently carry important British and American passengers, including army and navy officers, diplomats, and distinguished visitors to England.

persons. The change would raise approximately $300,000,000 annually and would require 6,000,000 additional persons to file income tax returns.

Other controversial points were:

The provision eliminating the right of husbands and wives in the eight community property states—Louisiana, Texas, Arizona, New Mexico, California, Idaho, Washington and Nevada—to split incomes in filing their returns, a procedure which means lower taxes in many instances; and

The provision sharply increasing the excise levies on some manufactured articles.

DODGERS APPARENTLY WEAKENING, CARDS STRONG

MAIN SHOW AT ST. LOUIS IS MORE LIKELY

Dolph Camilli Gives Brooklyn Victory In Four-Hour Opener

By Judson Bailey
(Associated Press Sports Writer)

The same subway that goes to Ebbets field in Brooklyn also runs to Coney Island, and there are about as many side shows at one stop as at the other.

But the people who have been rushing to the circus at Ebbets field are beginning to wonder whether the main show may be in the other direction—St. Louis.

The Cardinals captured a double header from the Pittsburgh Pirates yesterday with comparative ease, 5-3 and 6-3, to stretch their current winning streak to seven straight games, while the Brooklyn Dodgers had a terrible time winning a 15-inning marathon from the Boston Braves, 6-5, and then escaping with a 2-2 six-inning tie in the nightcap.

This pushed St. Louis a half game in front in the feverish National league pennant race with 84-45 for .648 compared with Brooklyn's 83-46 and .643.

The Dodgers' tie was re-scheduled for today—and if Brooklyn should win with St. Louis idle the margin between the two rivals would be reduced again to .002.

The Dodgers' debacle in losing a double header Saturday to the New York Giants and the difficulty they had yesterday with the seventh-place Braves did nothing to increase the confidence of their fans.

Dolph Camilli carried them to victory in the four-hour opener. He made five hits, tied the score in the eighth inning with his 29th home run, tied it again with a double in the 11th and won it with a single in the 15th. Darkness permitted only six innings of play in the afterpiece and old Fred Fitzsimmons pitched two-hit ball over this distance. But Shortstop Peewee Reese had another attack of the jitters and let in two runs. The Dodgers barely were able to come from behind before the game was called.

At St. Louis, before 34,812 fans, the biggest crowd in two years at Sportsman's park, Ernie White held Pittsburgh to nine hits and allowed no runs after the first inning in the opening contest. A homer by Jim Brown put St. Louis ahead in the sixth and White himself tripled to bat in the final run in the eighth. Afterward Howard Pollet, the kid sensation from the Texas league, pitched a six-hitter for his third victory and drove in two runs with a single.

In the other Natioanl league action the Giants swept a double bill from the poor Phillies and Cincinnati split with the Chicago Cubs. New York's first victory, 7-2, was achieved on four-hit hurling by Bob Carpenter and a five-run seventh inning in which Joe Moore and Mel Ott each hit two-run homers. Ott also smacked a home run, his 27th, in the nightcap and drove in three tallies, but it took another circuit clout, Babe Young's 21st, to win, 4-3, in the tenth inning.

Paul Derringer beat Jake Mooty in a duel in which each allowed six hits as the Reds topped Chicago, 2-1, but the Cubs came back to take the nightcap, 5-4, on Phil Cavarretta's triple in the tenth. Vallie Eaves and Tot Presnell combined in a five-hit pitching performance.

The New York Yankees divided a double header with the Athletics at Philadelphia and now need three more victories to clinch the American league pennant. A cluster of home runs by George Selkirk, Joe Gordon and Charley Keller boomed the bombers to a 13-11 win in the first encounter, but Bill Beckman muffled them, 5-1, on 11 hits in the second session.

The second-place Boston Red Sox raided the Washington Senators twice. Ted Williams hit two home runs as the Sox took the first tilt, 13-9, and collected his 34th in the second game, which Boston won 10-2 on five-hit hurling by Joe Dobson.

The Chicago White Sox whipped the bruised and tottering Cleveland Indians twice, 7-5 and 4-3. Lefty Thornton Lee scored his 18th victory in the opener, yielding 13 hits but knocking in the winning runs himself with a single. John Rigney kept nine hits scattered over 12 innings in the nightcap.

The Detroit Tigers tore the St. Louis Browns apart 9-5 and 16-8. Rudy York hit three homers in the first engagement and Barney McCosky and Bruce Campbell each hit one, both with two mates aboard, in the second game.

The Labor day program drew 176,929 fans in eight cities.

White Sox Meet Vicksburg In Double Header Tonight

Rain Spoils Labor Day Battle; Other Clubs Battle For Playoff Spots

Rain yesterday caused postponement of the series opener between the Monroe White Sox, who have already clinched their third straight Cotton States penant, and the Vicksburg Hill Billies, but the two clubs are scheduled to make up the game in a double header at the Hill City tonight.

The series is an all-important one for the Hill Billies in their battle for a place in the championship playoffs.

Since the Sox sewed up the pennant by splitting a twin bill with Greenville Sunday, interest in the league's proceedings has shifted to the other clubs as they come down the home stretch almost neck-and-neck in the battle for playoff positions.

The second place Hot Springs Bathers are almost sure championship series participants, but they haven't yet taken a firm hold on their No. 2 spot. However, the Bathers should have the easiest traveling for the remander of the distance as all their remaining games are with the lowly El Dorado Oilers.

The current Greenville-Helena series will go a long way toward determining the lineup for the playoffs. A mere split in the series won't do the Seaporters much good. They will have to win at least three of the four games to get past Greenville.

However, the 'Porters could count themselves in if they managed to halve the Greenville series and see the Hill Billies lose four straight to the Sox.

The scheduled Monroe-Vicksburg game yesterday got started but rain broke it up after an inning and a half in which neither team scored or got a hit. John Jaust, the lefthanded "jinx" started on the mound for the Bills and had set the Sox down in order the two times they went to bat. Verne "Little Willie" Williamson had started for Monroe, and it is probable that both Jaust and Williamson will be called upon again tonight.

The Sox end their series at Vicksburg tomorrow night and then come here Thursday night for their last scheduled game with the Bills. The Thursday meeting at Casino park will be celebrated by local fans as "Taitt Night" in appreciation for Manager Doug "Poco" Taitt who has kept the Sox in the thick of the Cotton States league campaigns for four successive seasons.

OUTSIDER WINS $10,000 ADDED AQUEDUCT STAKES

NEW YORK, Sept. 2.—(AP)—Mrs. F. Scully's Ponty, outsider in the six-horse field, led all the way Monday to win the $10,000 added Aqueduct Stakes, featuring the opening day of Aqueduct's fall meeting.

William Woodward's Foxbrough, favorite in the betting, and Lou Tufano's well-regarded Market Wise, both closed fast to finish second and third, respectively, as Sonny Whitney's Parasang faded in Aqueduct's long stretch to run out of the money.

GRANT DEFEATS PANCHO SEGURA

Equador Net Star Gives Bitsy Close Battle In National Tourney

NEW YORK, Sept. 2.—(AP)—An almost interminable match between a brace of bantamweights, Pancho Segura of Equador and Bryan Grant, Jr., of Matlanta, supplied nearly all the excitement and pathos for 5,000 fans who sat through the third day of the National tennis championships at Forest Hills.

While the big shots of the tournament, like Defending Champion Don McNeill, Frank Kovacs, Pauline Betz and others, were displaying their talents in virtual privacy on outlying courts, Pancho and Bitsy took over the stadium and held on to it like a couple of homesteaders.

After three solid hours of play, Grant finally staggered through to victory by scores of 6-4, 4-6, 5-7, 6-2, placing the Atlanta veteran in the third round.

It truly was a colorful match. Practically any point between Grant and Pancho was good for a dozen returns, and for long periods that was the minimum. They ran each other to death and took turns in high and fancy tumbling.

While all this was going on, the domestic seeded players advanced without incident or upset. All of the men completed their second round matches, and the upper bracket went through the third round, with Defending Champion Don McNeill of Oklahoma City, leading the way. The women finished their second round without a casualty among the starlets, though a couple of them lost a set.

Bobby Riggs, an ex-champion who is seeded No. 1, made quick work of Frank Bowden of New York, 6-1, 6-3, 6-2. McNeill had some difficulty in eliminating Seymour Greenberg of Chicago, 6-4, 6-4, 3-6, 6-3.

Mrs. Sarah Palfrey Cooke, co-favorite with Pauline Betz to win the women's crown, made her first appearance and, after a shaky first set, defeated Louise Brought of Los Angeles, 4-6, 6-1, 6-1. Miss Betz also dropped a set before subduing Pearl Harland of Santa Monica, 5-7, 6-4, 6-2.

EDDIE HEAD RECALLED BY BROOKLYN DODGERS

BROOKLYN, Sept. 2.—(AP)—The Brooklyn Dodgers Monday announced the recall of Pitchers Ed Head and Al Sherer and Infielder Alex Kampouris from their Montreal farm. Tom Tatum, who was purchased from Nashville by Brooklyn and then sent to Los Angeles in the deal that brought Augie Galan to the Dodgers, also was recalled.

Head and Kampouris will report as soon as the International League season is concluded, while the others will report in the spring of 1942.

DODGERS BEAT BRAVES FIRST AND TIE LAST

Howard Pollet And Ernie White Hurl Cards To 5-3, 6-3 Wins

ST. LOUIS, Sept. 2.—(AP)—The St. Louis Cardinals ran their latest winning streak to seven and took a little firmer grip on first place in the National League by sweeping a pair from Pittsburgh Monday, 5 to 3 and 6 to 3.

A paid attendance of 34,812—the largest since August 13, 1939—jammed Sportsman's Park to see the double victory and the great work of the Cardinals' rookie southpaws, Ernie White and Howard Pollet.

Each was shaky in the first inning but settled down thereafter.

White got his 17th victory against four defeats. Pollet, up from Houston of the Texas League less than two weeks, notched his third triumph against one setback. White tripled to drive in a run, Pollet singled and sent two scores over the plate.

The Pirates used four singles, a wild throw and an infield out to score twice in the first inning of the second game, which was called on account of darkness after Pittsburgh batted in the eighth.

The Pirates got to White for three hits coupled with a walk for three runs in the first inning of the opener. Lee Handley walked, went to third on Frank Gustine's double and both scored when Bob Elliott smacked another two-bagger. Elliott moved to third as Maurice Van Robays flied to Padgett and scored on Elbie Fletcher's single. DiMaggio fanned and Fletcher was doubled at second.

St. Louis tied it up in the third on a walk, an error by Gustine, an infield out which moved two men into scoring position, Walker Cooper's double and Padgett's single.

There it stuck until Brown's third home run of the season in the sixth.

GIANTS SWEEP PAIR

NEW YORK, Sept. 2.—(AP)—The New York Giants swept a double header from the hapless Phillies Monday before a crowd of 8,248. The scores were 7 to 2 and 4 to 3.

The second game was a tight battle which was tied at the end of nine innings, but Babe Young opened the Giants' half of the 10th with his 21st homer to nail the victory.

The first game was a well-pitched four-hitter by young Bob Carpenter, who allowed only two hits after the Phils bunched their scoring in the second inning. The Giants clustered five runs in a rollicking seventh stanza during which Joe Moore hit

BIG PEBBLE VICTOR IN WASHINGTON HANDICAP

CHICAGO, Sept. 2—(AP)—Big Pebble, bidding for the 1941 Handicap championship, swept to victory in the $33,000 Washington Park Handicap Monday before 38,000 holiday fans, largest crowd of the Washington park meeting.

The winner, a cast-off purchased for $5,000 18 months ago, defeated Bushwhacker by a length and a half. Haltal, after leading most of the mile and a quarter distance, finished third, a head back of Bushwhacker. Shot Put, the distance champion, was fourth and Equifox, running as an entry with Bushwhacker, fifth in a field of ten.

Jockey Jack Westrope piloted the winner over the distance in 2:03 1-5.

WHIRLAWAY WINS EASILY IN $60,900 DERBY

Whirlaway gallops down the center of the track to an easy two and three-quarter lengths victory in the $60,900 American Derby in Chicago. Bushwhacker (behind Whirlaway) was second. Delray (No. 4, on rail) finished third and Daily Trouble (trailing Delray) took fourth. Winner covered the mile and quarter in 2:04.

SPORTS ROUNDUP

By Hugh S. Fullerton, Jr.
(Pinch-Hitting for Eddie Brietz)

NEW YORK, Sept. 2.—(News-Star Special News Service)—Dolph Camilli likely won't win the pennant for the Dodgers single-handed, but after what he did during the past couple days, he probably could be elected mayor of Flatbush by a unanimous vote. . . . Since he quit swinging for homers or nothing, he's really begun to plaster them when they count. . . . And for that matter, Master Melvin Ott hasn't been doing badly for a guy who was supposed to be practically washed up before the season started. . . . With the Yanks about to clinch the pennant any day, there seems to be some merit in the suggestion of Jimmie Murphy of the Canton (Ill.) Ledger that they should be dropped from the league and replaced by a team that would give the other clubs a chance. Jimmie would then have Joe McCarthy's boys play the National League champs in the world series as a sort of American League pennant winner emeritus.

TODAY'S GUEST STAR

Dave Camerer, New York World-Telegram: "Frank Leahy has learned that being head coach at Notre Dame entails the requisites of a salesman, i. e., you must be a man of vision, ambition, unlimited endurance, an after-dinner speaker before and after dinner, sales promotion expert, a man's man, ladies' man, model husband, fatherly father, plutocrat, Democrat, traveler, liar, golfer, plus an authority on palmistry, chemistry, psychology and you take it from there."

COMING EVENTS

Next big item on the sports program is Eastern All-Stars vs. New York Giants tomorrow night at the Polo Grounds, and stout Steve Owen gave a tip-off on what's likely to happen to the All-Stars when he remarked the other day: "This is perhaps the best squad I have had since coming to the Giants." . . . You can look for a lot of strange names in the big league box scores from now on, with the rookies being called in for fall tryouts. . . . Frank Frisch hardly can wait to get a look at the new boys before he starts a housecleaning on the Pirates. . . . He's supposed to be high on Bill Cox, Harrisburg shortstop who may shove Arky Vaughan over to third, and Swede Jensen, a power-hitter outfielder from San Diego. . . . The Cubs think Lou Novikoff really may make the grade as a hitter this time and they're reported to be after Otto Denning, Minneapolis catcher-first baseman.

TRUE STORY

Ben Cantwell, the old-time Giants and Braves pitcher, got a job in a shipyard this summer after being cut loose by Oakland. . . . In a recent accident, he lost the middle finger of his pitching hand. . . . "But I'm not worrying at all," says Ben, "why, I might be able to develop a new screwball or something and keep on hurling."

SPORTS COCKTAIL

Fred Apostoli gives the navy credit for giving him a "new grip on life" and he thinks he'll be back fighting the top-rank middleweights by midwinter. . . . Latest racing rumor (unconfirmed) is that Don Meade is going to California to ride during the winter instead of returning to Florida, where he lives. . . . The Burghers of Washington (Pa.) would like to see their native son, Sammy Angott, in action but figure they can't line up a first-class lightweight to fight him there. It's hard enough to get a good one for him in Pittsburgh. . . . Newest local swimming sensation (and the beaches are full of 'em) is 18-year-old Mike Priano, who only won four metropolitan A. A. U. championships in the past three days. . . . Harry Franck, kid brother of Minnesota's George, may enter Northwestern this fall.

TALL TALE

The week's exaggeration prize goes to Walter Stewart's tale of the Chicago taxi driver who insisted that the Chicago Bears rode out to the all-star game one man to a cab because the "hacks wouldn't hold no more."

RALPH WENZEL NAMED COACH AT GREENVILLE

GREENVILLE, Miss., Sept. 2.—(AP)—Ralph Wenzel, one of Tulane's greatest ends, Monday was named assistant coach of the Greenville High School football team.

Wenzel started his grid career at Pine Bluff (Ark.) High School while George Terry was assistant coach. Terry, now head coach at Greenville, said Wenzel would coach the ends and tackles.

The big Arkansan, a mainstay of Tulane's Sugar Bowl team two season's ago, helped coach the Tulane ends last year.

S'EASTERN GRID TRAINING BEGINS

Tennessee 'Hard Hit' For Talent; Only 35 Report For Work At Florida

(By Associated Press)

ATLANTA, Sept. 2.—More than 600 shorts-clad football players, some of them splashing in rain, went through light drills Monday as 12 Southeastern conference colleges opened practice for the 1941 season.

While most schools reported all players present or accounted for, hard-hit Tennessee—defending champion—disclosed the loss of still another first-strong player, Tailback Van Thompson. One of the few hold-overs from last year's undefeated team, Thompson announced he would not return to school, remaining on a summer job in a shell-loading plant at Milan, Tenn., where he is classed as a defense worker.

Forty-eight Tennessee players reported for first drills, and Coach John Barnhill said others would be on hand Tuesday. Alabama, rated with Mississippi as principal challengers of Tennessee, also had 48 men reporting. Absent were Jimmy Nelson, All-Southeastern halfback; Paul Spencer, first-string fullback; and three sophomore halfbacks, Howard Hughes and Robert and Ray Hutson. All were expected in a day or so.

Smallest squad in the conference reported to Coach Tom Lieb at Gainesville, Fla., where only 35 men were on deck. Five more, still to report, were Carl Mitchell, senior end; John Barbor, sophomore guard; Earl Harrison and Robert Johnson, sophomore ends, and Frank Buell, halfback.

At Auburn Coach Jack Meagher sent 46 men through preliminary muscle-loosening work and said physical examinations had failed to disclose any serious ailments.

Rain pelted the lower Mississippi valley, and squads at Tulane and Louisiana State worked out in a persistent drizzle. Coach Bernie Moore said his L. S. U. squad looked in "tip-top shape" and predicted early doses of rough work for the 49 men. Coach Red Dawson greeted 50 players at Tulane, described his material as "about the same as this time last year, maybe a little better fixed in the backfield, and not so strong in the line. Only one man was absent, second-string Halfback John Sims.

Forty-four candidates, seven less than expected, reported to Coach Ab Kirwan at the University of Kentucky. Absentees including Halfback Junior Jones, Fullback Bob Herbert, both lettermen; Bill Kincer, fullback and Jack Casner, guard. Kirwan said Jones had been excused, and Kincer was ill at home.

Thirty-nine Vanderbilt players, with all prospects on deck, worked on plays and went through passing drills, and Coach Red Sanders later called for light contact work in regulation equipment. "If things go right," he said, "we might be doing a little rough work by the end of the week. The boys look in fair condition."

Seven men were absent as Coach Harry Mehre called his University of Mississippi squad together. Those missing were Tackles Chet Kozel, Charles Day, George Nehi and Ral Alesevich; Quarterback Gordon Devault and Wingbacks Ed Rzepnicki and George Bailey.

Mehre, talking to his boys, stressed the need of early conditioning on account of the tough opening game September 27 with Georgetown, last season's Orange Bowl team. Two sessions a day are planned for the first two weeks.

Captain Bill Arnold led 39 Mississippi State men in spirited conditioning drills despite the heat, and Coach Allfn McKeen said the squad was in good condition.

Only three men were missing at the opening drills. Frontaine "Spike" Dreher, veteran tackle, was expected tonight and Andy Kowalski, sophomore end, was reported en route here from his home at Gloucester, N. J., and is expected to arrive Wednesday. Joe Meek, 210-pound promising sophomore, has indicated he would not return to school.

YANKEES DIVIDE DOUBLE HEADER WITH ATHLETICS

Bombers Win First, 13-11, Drop Second, 5-1; Chisox Rout Tribe

PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 2.—(AP)—The New York Yankees moved to within three victories of clinching the American league pennant Monday by outslugging the Athletics, 13 to 11, in the first game of their double header, but were stalled by Bill Bechman's effective pitching in the nightcap and lost, 5 to 1, before a crowd of 25,121.

Three more triumphs will assure the Bronx Bombers the title, regardless of what their rivals do.

Home runs enabled the Yanks to come from behind in the first game, a struggle that lasted two hours and 38 minutes. Trailing 7 to 2 at the start of the fourth, the Yank power came to life as Charley Keller doubled against the right field wall and George Selkirk followed with a home run into the left field stands. Joe Gordon, next up, duplicated Selkirk's blow to pare the Athletics' lead to two runs.

A five run uprising in the next inning gave the New Yorkers a lead they never relinquished. Branch received credit for the victory although he was relieved by Murphy in the eighth.

MYERS WINNER IN 10TH LABOR DAY GOLF MEET

Defeats Dick Touchstone 1 Up In 19 Holes To Win Tourney

John Myers, Jr., a local golfer, won his first tournament yesterday when he upset the favored Dickey Touchstone, state high school and Twin City golf champion, 1 up in 19 holes to win the tenth annual Labor day golf tourney over the Municipal course here yesterday afternoon.

The final was close all the way through. Touchstone took a 1 up lead on the second hole. Myers made it even when Touchstone went one over par on the seventh, but Myers went one over on the ninth to give Dickey the lead once more.

Touchstone took a 2 up lead on the tenth but lost the eleventh hole. He was two up again on the 15th after Myers took five on the par-four hole. But Myers birdied the 17th and won the 18th to even the match.

Then on the extra hole, Myers went one over par but that was still enough to win when Touchstone bogied the par four-hole.

Touchstone, however, had a difficult time reaching the finals when he was almost eliminated by W. E. Sandel in the semi-finals. Sandel had Touchstone 2 up and three holes to go, but Dickey rallied to win the last three holes.

The tourney was featured by upsets, not only in the championship final but in the early rounds.

E. S. "Shep" Girault, the defending champion, was felled by Bill Junod, 5 and 3, in the first round; Bill Jones, the medalist, was a 2 and 1 victim of Dr. T. A. Brutle in the first round; and Myers checked the threat of Joe Zacharih, the L. S. U. star, in the second round, 2 and 1.

Jean Shirah, the Muny professional, presented awards to the winners and runners-up in each flight and to consolation winners at the close of the tournament.

Tournament results were as follows:

Championship flight:

First round: Bill Junod beat "Shep" Girault, 5 and 3; M. K. Lawson won by default from Wesley Shafto Joe Zacharih defeated Joel Klar, 2 up; Myers beat E. L. Marchman, 1 up; Dr. T. A. Brulte defeated Bill Jones, 2 and 1; Touchstone defeated Harold McClendon, 6 to 5; H. T. Taylor trounced H. C. Stewart, 5 and 4, and W. E. Sandel won by default from E. Jack Selig, Jr.

Quarter-finals: Junod beat Lawson, 7 and 6; Myers beat Zacharih, 2 and 1; Touchstone disposed of Dr. Brulte, 5 and 4, and Sandel beat Taylor, 5 and 4.

Semi-finals: Myers defeated Junod, 3 and 2, and Touchstone bested Sandel, 1 up.

Finals: Myers defeated Touchstone, 1 up in 19 holes.

First flight:

First round: Brice Pirtle won by default from Jordan Barton; Bean Moses beat G. W. Hill, 3 and 2; J. C. Jordan won by default from J. C. Liner, Sr.; W. O. Webb beat C. P. Quarter-finals: Pirtle bested Moses, 1 up in 19 holes; Jordan defeated Webb, 1 up in 19 holes; Oliver beat Willis, 6 and 5, and Bennett beat Hemphill, 6 and 5.

Semi-finals: Jordan defeated Pirtle, 3 and 2, and Bennett beat Oliver, 2 and 1.

Finals: Bennett defeated Jordan, 3 and 2.

Second flight:

First round: Aaron Parker trounced H. E. Roberts, 5 and 4; Loyd Barham edged Willard Fisher, 1 up; C. L. Dill defeated M. D. Ehrhardt, 8 and 6; L. S. Latham disposed of Gardner Young, 5 and 4; M. G. Merklin beat J. C. Collens, 1 up; Bill Yerger beat Gus Brown, 3 and 2; K. L. Weldin shaded H. J. Linquist, 1 up, and Johnnie Collens defeated H. J. Barham, 1 up.

Quarter-finals: Parker beat L. Barham, 5 and 4; Dill defeated Latham, 3 and 1; Merklin beat Yerker, 1 up, and J. Collens beat Weldin, 3 and 2.

Semi-finals: Dill beat Parker, 4 and 3, and Merklin defeated Collens, 2 and 1.

Finals: Dill edged Merklin, 1 up.

Third flight:

First round: C. A. Morgan beat P. A. Reising, 3 and 2; J. L. Green defeated Gene Bruscato, 1 up; W. B. Stewart downed D. H. Haynes, 2 up, and E. E. Lawson drew a bye.

Semi-finals: Morgan beat Green, 3 and 2, and Stewart stopped Lawson, 3 and 2.

Finals: Stewart defeated Morgan, 5 and 4.

Consolation results were as follows:

Championship flight: Girault won by default over Shafto; Klar beat Marchman, 5 and 4; Jones beat McClendon, 1 up; Stewart won by default from Selig; Klar beat Girault, 1 up; Jones defeated Stewart, 2 and 1, and Jones trounced Klar in the finals, 5 and 3.

First flight: Barton won by default from Hill. C. P. Brogan beat Liner, 5 and 4; Bradford trounced Frost, 17 up in 19 holes; Neel won by default from Bivens Brogan beat Barton, 1 up; Bradford won over Neel, 2 up, and Bradford won the final from Brogan, 3 and 2.

Second flight: Roberts shaded Fisher, 1 up; Ehrhardt edged Young, 1 up; Collens bested Brown, 3 and 2; H. J. Baham beat Linquist, 1 up; Roberts beat Ehrhardt, 2 and 1; Collens beat Barham, 4 and 3, and Collens won the final over Roberts, 1 up.

Third flight: Bruscato defeated Reising, 2 and 1; Haynes drew a bye, but lost to Bruscato in the final, 2 and 1.

N. O. YACHT WINS

LA PORTE, Tex., Sept. 1.—(AP)—Southern Yacht club of New Orleans won the $5,000 Lipton cup trophy for the fourth consecutive year when Gilbert Gray, premier skipper of the gulf, easily outdistanced Shaw Freeman from the Buccaneer Yacht club of Mobile in a sailoff Monday afternoon over the Houston Yacht club course.

Jack Curtis Gets Another Crack At Mobley's Crown

Light Heavyweight Mat Title At Stake At Monroe Arena Tonight

Rex Mobley, light heavyweight champion of the world, gives Jack Curtis, colorful Vicksburg matman, another crack at his crown here tonight at the Monroe arena, and many fans who saw the Mobley-Curtis title battle here a month ago believe Curtis can relieve the rowdy Texan of his belt if he can weather the storm of fouls Mobley is sure to call upon if the match doesn't go his way.

That title match of last July 29 left a bad taste with the fans as well as Curtis when Mobley, resorting to villainy, disabled the Mississippian and left with his title intact but without the benefit of glory that usually accompanies victory.

Curtis won the first fall of his last match with Mobley, but the Texan, when his realized his crown was tottering, began kicking Curtis from every angle in the second fall. One of these kicks sent the Mississippian sprawling through the ropes and he sprained his ankle in the fall. With Curtis helpless, Mobley had no difficulty winning the fall, and Curtis, disregarding the advice of arena physicians, attempted to return for the third fall only to have Mobley grab his injured ankle at the start and win the fall and the match in two minutes of the last stanza.

The Mississippian is in good physical condition once more, however, and confident that he will add Mobley's light heavy crown to the nation's junior light heavyweight title which he already claims.

Balk Estes, former Baton Rouge promoter, who is an exponent of "leg wrestling" and features a spectacular flying head scissors, will meet Les Chapman of Toledo, O., in the curtain-raiser at 8:30 o'clock.

The Mobley-Curtis title brawl will start at approximately 9:15 o'clock and will have a 90-minute time limit, two falls to win.

The semi-final will be an hour time limit affair, two falls to win.

There will be no advance in prices for the championship card, Promoter Gus Kallio announced. Crowds attending mat shows here this summer have been consistently large and Promoter Kallio said he was confident the attendance tonight would be large enough to insure the champion's purse without any advance in prices.

Aldin "Butch" Martin will referee both bouts.

NEW ORLEANS, JACKSON SHARE TENNIS SPOTLIGHT

ALEXANDRIA, La., Sept. 2.—(AP)—New Orleans and Jackson, Miss., racquet swingers shared the spotlight here Monday as the ninth annual Louisiana State tennis tournament neared a close.

In the ladies' singles Mrs. John Vest of Jackson defeated Lucy Mouledous of New Orleans, 6-2, 6-4.

Mrs. Vest and her partner, Slew Hester of Jackson, took the mixed doubles from Muriel Andrews and M. J. McLaney, both of New Orleans, 6-4, 6-1.

In the men's doubles, McLeaney and Earl Bartlett defeated Lou Schopfer and Roy Bartlett, 6-4, 4-6, 7-5. All are from New Orleans.

The junior singles went to Bill McLaney who took Glen Gardner's measure, 6-1, 6-0. Both are from New Orleans.

The junior doubles was played between four New Orleans youngsters. Gardner and Jim McConnell defeated Bill McLaney and Bartlett, 6-1, 6-2. Bartlett then won his match from Schopfer in the men's singles, 6-4, 6-1.

Nearly one-half of the 92 known elements are used in the building of automobiles.

Today a year ago: Yankees took second place in American League by splitting double header with Athletics before 69,940 as as Detroit lost two games.

Three years ago: Bob Pearce retained world professional sculling title by beating Evans Paddon, Australia, by five lengths; Joe Burke won amateur event.

Five years ago: Tommy Hitchcock led Greentree into open polo championship finals with 13-9 victory over Hurricanes.

During June, domestic air lines carried 353,478 revenue passengers a total of 130,680,225 passenger-miles, which, incidentally, is an all-time high.

TIGERS BATTER BROWNS

DETROIT, Sept. 2.—(AP)—The Detroit Tigers, hitting as of old in their drive toward a first division berth, exploded 35 hits good for 60 bases in twice walloping the St. Louis Browns Monday, 9 to 5, and 16 to 8 in a Labor day double header before 22,180.

Rudy York led a 15-hit attack in the opener with three home runs off as many hurlers to bring his season total to 25 and account for five runs. Pinky Higgins also homered as did George McQuinn of the Browns.

York's bat was silent except for a single in the 20-hit attack in the nightcap, but it didn't matter. Bruce Campbell clouted his 14th homer, Barney McCosky his third, Dutch Meyer hit a single, double and triple, and relief pitcher Johnny Gorsica, who was credited with the victory, bagged three singles and a double in four times up.

RED SOX WIN TWO

BOSTON, Sept. 2.—(AP)—With Ted Williams clouting three homers, to boost his season's total to 34, the Red Sox settled comfortable into second place Monday by sweeping a double header from the Washington Senators, 13-9 and 10-2, before a holiday throng of 22,577.

The Sockers were trailing when Williams got his first Labor day four-bagger against starter Al Carrasquel during the fifth inning of the opener. He collected No. 2 against Bill Zuber in the eighth, when the Sockers put on a 7-run rally, and his third one launched a 6-run drive against Arnold Anderson in the sixth frame of the nightcap.

The Sockers blasted four Washington pitchers for 18 hits for 33 bases during the opening game and landed on Anderson for 11 of their safe blows in the nightcap.

CHISOX HUMBLE INDIANS

CLEVELAND, Sept. 2.—(AP)—Chicago's White Sox kept on the tail of second-place Boston by sweeping a double header here Monday.

Thornton Lee won the first game 7-5—the margin of two runs he personally poled in. John Rigney posted the 4-3 nightcap victory by holding the Indians to nine hits through 12 innings of play while his mates were piling up 13 against luckless Al Milnar.

'39 WAVE STAR STARTING OVER

M'Collum, Once All-American, Just Scrub As Tulane Starts Work

NEW ORLEANS, Sept. 2—(AP)—Huge Harley McCollum—an All-America tackle in 1939 and a scrub in 1940—trotted onto Tulane's practice field Monday looking as formidable as H. M. S. Prince of Wales.

Bronzed, lithe and alert, the six-foot-five-inch giant scaled in at his best fighting weight of 235 pounds as the Green Wave opened training. But as to his chances of making All-America again, he wasn't making any boasts.

"I'll give 'em hell if I can," he said, "but that can work both ways."

You remember McCollum—who didn't yield enough net yardage in all the first half of the 1939 season to total a first down, and cleared the way for every touchdown Tulane made while he was in the game—who was just another tackle later on, after he had clinched All-America, and who was pushed all over the Sugar Bowl field by Texas A. and M.—who was finally mousetrapped in the classroom and was ineligible to play last season.

Loud wa sthe criticism then from curbstone quarterbacks who claimed big Mac's "attitude" was all wrong.

Mac silenced much of the talk when he donned a red shirt and worked as a scrub, taking beatings from the varsity in scrimmage but giving them much-needed opposition. Meanwhile he boned up on his books and regained eligibility. His draft status was cleared when his board back home in Oklahoma deferred all college seniors.

He worked this summer for a utilities company, climbing poles, stringing lines and cables—"underground and up in the air," he said. It was hard and dirty work, but it put him in fine condition.

Big Mac is a superlative blocker—and if he is "right," woe betide eneuy linemen when he starts opening holes for Fullback Jim Thibaut, the human tank!

DODGERS WIN, TIE

BROOKLYN, Sept. 2.—(AP)—Baseball's show team, the Brooklyn Dodgers, staged two weird games for 27,516 fans and came out of their Labor Day double header with the Boston Braves with a 15-inning 6-to-5 triumph and a 6-inning 2-to-2 tie which will have to be played off Tuesday.

A jittery moment by Shortstop Pee Wee Reese provided the Braves with both their runs in the second game, which darkness abbreviated, and let the St. Louis Cardinals creep a game ahead of the Dodgers in their torrid National League pennant drive.

The opener, in which each team used 17 players, including six pitchers for Boston and three for Brooklyn, was climaxed, after more than four hours of play, by Dolph Camilli's fifth hit—a long single to left with the bases crammed—scoring pinch-runner Pete Coscarart with the winning run.

In the eighth inning, with Brooklyn one behind, Camilli hoisted his 29th homer of the season in the upper deck of the centerfield bleachers. Again in the 10th, after the Braves had taken the lead on John Cooney's single, a sacrifice and Paul Waner's single, Camilli came through a line double to score Pete Reiser from first base.

CUBS, REDS DIVIDE 2

CHICAGO, Sept. 2.—(AP)—The Chicago Cubs came from behind to score a 10th-inning 5-to-4 victory after the Cincinnati Reds had beaten them, 2 to 1, in the first game of a double header before a holiday crowd of 25,107.

Paul Derringer and Jake Mooty each allowed six hits in the first game, but the Reds bunched three in the fourth inning to produce their only runs. The Cubs scored their run in the sixth, when an error by Frank McCormick paved the way to the marker. It was Derringer's first start since August 8 and his 10th victory of the season.

A double by Babe Dahlgren with two mates on in the ninth inning tied up the second game. In the 10th, with one out, Stanley Hack singled and came home with the winning run when Phil Cavarretta slapped a triple against the left center field wall.

BITING DOGS ONE OF POSTMEN'S PEEVES

LOS ANGELES, Sept. 2.—(AP)—What peeves postmen?

Hot uniforms, dogs, snow and collapsible egg crates, among other things.

Resolutions dealing with those four items are before the National Association of Letter Carriers, in convention here.

One urges substitution of gray cotton trousers and sport shirts with open collars for the present summer garment of "long sleeves, button collars, tight neckties and woolen trousers."

Another asks that the postoffice department do something about owners of dogs who bite postmen. The resolution adds that owners seldom offer to pay for the damage.

A third requests that postmasters be authorized to refuse delivery of mail to persons who do not have sidewalks cleared within 12 hours after a snow storm. (The North Dakota and Wisconsin delegations are responsible for this one.)

A fourth suggests regulations making metal containers mandatory, contending that collapsible egg crates too often collapse, injuring the mail carrier, his clothing and other items of mail.

SOLDIERS SEE U. S. O. MOVIES

First Presentation Here Given On Sunday To 700 Men

The initial presentation of the U. S. O. mobile unit was shown to 700 soldiers encamped near West Monroe Sunday night. In addition to two current movie pictures Private First Class Bob Spangler, by popular request, completed the evening's program with two of his company's favorite song numbers.

Morris D. Kronenfeld, U. S. O. representative, and master of ceremonies, delivered a short talk describing the activities of the U. S. O. which comprises the Y. M. C. A., Y. W. C. A., Jewish Welfare board, National Catholic Community service, Salvation Army and Travelers' Aid. In connection with the U. S. O. maneuver program, the speaker informed the men that temporary U. S. O. centers and shower accommodations were being made available to them with the co-operation of local committees throughout Louisiana.

Sunday night's movie performance was given in one of the three outdoor mobile motion picture theaters sent into the area of the United States army field maneuvers by the U. S. O. to entertain soldiers during their periods of relaxation from training under simulated war conditions. Each theater unit will present full length shows including a feature picture, news reel, and a comedy.

"Bad Men from Missouri" and Bob Hope were presented Sunday night.

Manned by professional motion picture operators, the units are contained in streamlined buses. They carry complete power plants, which operate a high powered broadcasting system for radio, music or public address, and a motion picture projector. The center of each bus is so constructed that it may be elevated to present a picture screen easily viewed by an outdoor audience of several thousand soldiers.

The mobile theaters will be seen first in the Louisiana maneuvers. They will work under the direction of a U. S. O. field staff operating out of New Orleans under the direction of John A. Zimmerman, regional maneuvers director. U. S. O. has twenty staff members assigned to this work in that area where close to five hundred thousand troops are engaged in field training. Later the mobile units will be sent to the October maneuvers in the Carolinas.

U. S. O. field workers are traveling in advance of the troops to arrange special conveniences for the men in training. Cooperating with staff members of the Federal Security administration, they are setting up provisions for rest rooms, writing and mailing of letters, religious services and recreation. These activities are under the supervision of the U. S. O. maneuvers committee headed by Thomas A. Rymer of New York.

New York

NEW YORK, Sept. 2.—(AP)—Cotton futures registered gains of as much as $1.55 a bale before profit taking partially pared their advances today. During the first hour, the May position reached 17.82, the best price marked up since January 23, 1930.

The growing movement in the south to hold cotton and cotton seed for higher prices, a lower private crop estimate and firmness in other commodities contributed to the gains. The president's suggestion of a long and arduous war also acted as an inducement to buyers.

Late prices were 25 to 28 points higher; Oct. 17.25; Dec. 17.44 and May 17.70.

Futures closed 18-22 higher.

NEW YORK STOCKS

By Victor Eubank

NEW YORK, Sept. 2.—(AP)—Aircraft today convoyed the stock market on another modest recovery tour.

Quotations and activity were best in the forenoon. Thereafter the pace slowed and gains of major fractions to a point or so were reduced. General trends were upward at the close but small declines were sprinkled over the ticker tape.

Transfers for the full stretch approximated 550,000 shares, one of the largest aggregates in about three weeks.

NEW YORK, Sept. 2.—(AP)—The stock market today continued to move in first speed forward.

While there were scattered exceptions, leaders pinned on fractions to a point or so after a hesitant opening. Top gains were reduced, however, near the fourth hour as volume dwindled.

Boardroom customers returned from their lengthy holiday a bit more bullish than otherwise, brokers said, although most were still somewhat skeptical over international affairs, taxes and governmental restrictions. The apparently stronger resistance of the Reds to the Nazi invasion was viewed as encouraging marketwise.

Among favored stocks Consolidated Aircraft posted another new 1941 high, along with Boeing, Pan-American Airways and Twentieth Century-Fox.

Up most of the time were U. S. Steel, Chrysler, General Motors, Glenn Martin, Anaconda, Westinghouse, Great Northern, Southern Pacific, Allied Chemical and Johns-Manville.

Laggards include Kennecott, Phelps Dodge, N. Y. Central, Dow Chemical, U. S. Rubber and Consolidated Edison.

May cotton jumped to the best mark since 1930 and other commodities pushed upward. The president's intimation in his broadcast that a long war was likely, together with the lift in cotton parities, was thought to have spurred staples.

Advancing in the curb were Singer Manufacturing, American Cyanamid "B". Bell Aircraft and Draper Corporation.

The aviation section seemingly still was responsive to the Consolidated Aircraft proposal of a 100 per cent stock dividend. Talk of greater standardization of military pursuit planes which would fatten profits of manufacturers also was viewed as a bolstering influence.

AAA TO HOLD SOIL MEETING

Agricultural Workers To Decide On Conservation Plan For Ouachita

A meeting of Ouachita parish AAA committeemen and agricultural workers will be held at 9 a.m. Saturday at the courthouse here to decide which of four types of minimum soil conservation plans offered under the 1942 agricultural conservation program is most suited for application in this parish, according to announcement by I. [illegible] Lucas, parish triple A administrative officer.

The four alternative plans announced recently by the department of agriculture are as follows:

1. Devote at least 20 per cent of the cropland on the farm to conserving crops during the entire 1942 crop year.

2. Devote at least 25 per cent of the cropland on the farm to erosion-resisting crops.

3. Carry out a well-rounded farm conservation program which over a period of years will conserve the soil and increase its productivity. Used in Alabama this year, this is commonly known as the Alabama plan.

4. Relate soil-building performance to compliance with crop allotments, a plan used in North Carolina and a few counties in other states this year. Under this plan the payment earned for complying with the crop allotments will be reduced in the same proportion that soil-building earnings fall below the farm's maximum soil-building allowance.

These plans under which a minimum of cropland must be in soil conserving crops replace the total soil-depleting allotments of previous years and are one of the program's chief measures for encouraging greater use of soil-conserving crops. The total allotments are being eliminated in most of the country in order to promote increased acreages of crops called for by the defense program, Administrative Officer Lucas said.

Crop allotment payment rates for 1942 and all 1942 allotments with the exception of wheat, which has already been set at 55 million acres, will be announced later, the department of agriculture has indicated. Full payment for compliance with a farm's special crop allotments will be contingent on fully achieving the soil-conserving goal set up for the farm.

LOCAL BUILDING SHOWS INCREASE

Forty Permits Issued Here In August Total $95,391

Renewed interest in construction in Monroe was evident in the August report issued Tuesday by the city building inspection office, which recorded 40 permits amounting to $95,391.

A considerable increase over the past two months and over August, 1940, was reported last month. In July 35 permits totaling $66,256 were issued, in June, 31 totaling $29,142, and in August last year, 23 permits amounting to $32,952.

New residences contracted for during August numbered 14 and totaled $34,615. Four garages totaled $465; a work shop, $80; one poultry house, $150; one barn, $1,000; one restaurant building, $1,000. Eleven permits for alterations and repairs to residential structures totaled $13,696, and seven to non-residential buildings, $44,385.

Two additional permits were announced Tuesday morning. E. J. Simmons received permission to build a one-story frame dwelling at Atkinson and Reed streets. The owner will supervise the construction, to cost $600. A permit also was issued to Daisy Thompson to remodel the one-story frame residence at 1507 Breard street. Day labor will be employed, and the building will cost $700.

CONVENTION OF BEAUTICIANS AND BARBERS CLOSES

News-Star Staff Photos

The outgoing president congratulates the incoming president as the annual state convention of master beauticians and barbers comes to a close at Frances hotel terrace Monday night. Otis Johnson of Monroe congratulates Mrs. Tessie Harris, Shreveport, the new president, as other officers look on. In the top photo, left to right, are E. B. Barceneau, Metarie, second vice-president; Mrs. Wanda Warmack, Baton Rouge, first vice-president; Mr. Johnson, John O. Peck, Lafayette, fourth vice-president; Mrs. Harris, J. Clouatre, Monroe, fifth vice-president; Mrs. Olga Spirolo, New Orleans, third vice-president, and P. J. Naquin, New Orleans, secretary-treasurer. The three members of the Louisiana Board of Cosmetic Therapy are show below. They are, left to right, Mrs. Henrietta Michon, secretary; Mrs. Agnes Schindler, vice-president, and Mrs. Betty Mabry, president. To the right is Louis McIlvain, chicago, general secretary-treasurer of the Association of Master Barbers and Beauticians of America.

Reconstruction Work On Buildings Proceeds; Land Being Drained

Prosecution of the work entailed in the $100,000 WPA project comprising reconstruction of the buildings at the Louisiana Training institute is proceeding satisfactorily, stated Superintendent Elmer Slagle.

Drainage of the eastern part of the grounds is proceeding and at the same time work is being done on the dormitories D and B. The boys in cottage D have been removed and the interior decorations, plumbing and lighting installations are being improved and in many instances replaced.

The exterior of cottage B is being repainted and new gutters installed as a part of the roof replacement.

The farm work is in progress, haying being now well under way.

Internes from the nearby E. A. Conway Memorial hospital are using the home formerly occupied by the superintendent, a part of which is being reserved for offices for the institute when repairs and alterations have been completed.

TENT MEETINGS ARE TO BE CONTINUED

Tent meetings sponsored by the Church of God, at the corner of Hart and Oak streets, were initiated Sunday, August 17, by Rev. J. A. Causey, evangelist, and are being continued all through this week. A. B. Mizell is pastor and extends a welcome to the public to attend.

It is explained that out-of-town visitors can best find the location by going to the Five Points on DeSiard street and then proceeding south four blocks to Hart and Oak streets.

BEAUTICIANS END MEETING

Sessions Close With Banquet And Dance; Baton Rouge Selected

Louis McIlvain, general secretary-treasurer, of the national master barber and beauticians association, was principal speaker at the banquet Monday night on the Hotel Frances roof, which climaxed the ninth annual convention of the Associated Master Barbers and Beauticians of Louisiana which opened here Sunday. A dance followed the banquet.

The importance of legislation for the protection of the profession, and the proper procedure involved in realizing the desired legislation was discussed by the national officer.

Senator D. Y. Smith, Representative D. Ross Banister and Ex-Senator James A. Noe also addressed the convention delegation and pledged their support to the state group.

Odis L. Johnson, Monroe, state president of the beauticians organization, was master of ceremonies at the banquet, attended by more than 200 of the 500 delegates.

Milton Coverdale, Jr., and his orchestra played for the beauticians' ball.

Mrs. Tressie Leach Harris of Shreveport was chosen president of the association during the afternoon session. Other officers are Mrs. Wanda Warmack, Baton Rouge, first vice-president; E B. Barceneaux, Metairie, second vice-president; Mrs. Olga Spirolo, New Orleans, third vice-president; John O. Peck, Lafayette, fourth vice-president; Harry J. Clouatre, Monroe, fifth vice-president; and P. J. Naquin, New Orleans, secretary-treasurer.

Baton Rouge was selected as site for the 1942 state convention.

The delegates discussed plans to bring the national convention to New Orleans in 1942.

FILMS TO BOOST MORALE PLANNED

CHICAGO, Sept. 2.—(AP)—A new plan to show movies in libraries to raise American morale was reported to the American Association for Applied Psychology today.

The aim is non-partisan, that is neither interventionist nor isolationist. The films are intended to bring home to onlookers the values they get from America.

They include America's human resources, material resources, relations with other nations, unemployment eradication, and such things as the minority groups in American life.

The pictures are to be shown in libraries scattered well over the country, this winter, with talks accompanying the films, and books and other informative material on American life laid out by the librarians in hope that the audiences will take up studies of their own.

These shows are intended for adults, to get them to do their own investigating and thinking, and to start libraries in the use of movies as an asset to books.

A grant of $2,000 from the Carnegie corporation aids the work. The report was made by Dr. Alice I. Bryan, Columbia university. Participating, besides the psychological association, are the American Library association, American Association for Adult Education and American Film Center.

LOSES DOLLAR STEP

HUNTINGTON PARK, Calif., Sept. 2.—(AP)—Peter Albright figures his loss at about a dollar a step. He decided to save a few steps and enter his hotel the back way, Albright told police. Three gunmen, waiting there, relieved him of $205.

PSYCHOLOGISTS TAKING TO AIR

Discovering Queer, Interesting Facts About Fighter Pilots

By Howard W. Blakeslee
(Associated Press Science Writer)

CHICAGO, Sept. 2.—(AP)—Psychologists literally are going into the air with United States aviation forces, and making their laboratories right in cockpits of military planes.

Twenty of these flying professors and their assistants already have qualified as pilots, and 50 others are taking flying instruction.

They are discovering queer, interesting and useful facts about what it takes to become a fighter pilot. Some of these were reported to the American Association for Applied Psychology today by Dr. John G. Jenkins, University of Maryland psychologist, now with the civil and military aviation authority, and himself a doctor learning to fly.

He told of a mature psychologist, up in a plane taking flying instruction, who was unexpectedly told to make an emergency landing. He didn't know what to do, but he calmly lied to his instructor about his plans.

Dr. Jenkins cited the instance as one example of emotional troubles. The one place, he explained, where a man ought not to lie is at the controls of a plane, for a lie there may mean death.

The flying scientists install instruments which measure how much a man sweats, how much muscular energy he expends and other of the physical signs which may show what is going on in his mind.

At first, said Dr. Jenkins, it was thought that muscular coordination was extremely important, and its lack possibly the explanation of numerous accidents. But, he declared, when this was studied from every angle, perception was found to be infinitely more important. Perception is not only the ability of the eyes to see and of the other faculties to aid, but of the mind to size up a situation.

A pilot, for example, he said, does not judge his altitude. If he took time to judge it, he might be killed. The pilot perceives the altitude instantly.

To date the psychologists have established methods of weeding out potential washouts among flier candidatest. How to spot the unruly emotions which may ruin a flier and his plane is one of the urgent problems.

Washouts, the men who fail, he said have been very low, only five per cent among the 150,000 undergraduate training plane pilots who have learned to fly under the civil aviation authority. The navy washout rate, he added, is only 10 per cent, a figure low for the fighter pilot class.

IVY JORDAN IS NAMED TO POST

Elected Lieutenant Governor Of Kiwanis For North Louisiana

Ivy C. Jordan, of Monroe, was elected lieutenant governor of the north Louisiana division of the Louisiana-Mississippi-West Tennessee district Kiwanis clubs at the 23rd annual district convention at Alexandria Tuesday. Other lieutenant-governors elected were: South Louisiana, Robert Seymour of New Orleans; north Mississippi, O. D. Davis, of West Point, Miss.; and south Mississippi, Lawrence James, of Gulfport. George A. Meadows, of Shreveport, was elected district governor.

Meadows last year was north Louisiana district lieutenant governor and in 1938 was president of the Shreveport club.

Achievement awards, announced by W. D. Cotton of Rayville, went to Memphis for clubs with over 100 members, to Shreveport for clubs with between 51 and 100 members, to Rayville for clubs with between 31 and 50 members, and to New Albany, Miss., for clubs with less than 30 members.

H. W. Stanley, secretary-manager of the Hot Springs (Ark.) Chamber of Commerce, was the principal speaker at the concluding session of the three-day convention at which 350 persons were registered.

NAME DIXON FOR NEW CREDIT POST

The executive committee of the Tallulah Production Credit association has appointed M. S. Dixon inspector and representative of the association in Ouachita parish, it was announced Tuesday. Mr. Dixon has served as field representative of the association since organization, and James D. Sparks has been local representative for that period. Due to his extensive law practice, Mr. Sparks has found it necessary to resign his position.

Mr. Dixon's office will be located with A. C. Ransom, representative of the Ouachita Valley National Farm Loan association and the Federal Land bank, in the old Central Savings Bank building, at 138 South Grand street. For the present, Mr. Dixon will be at that office from 8 a.m. to 12 noon each Saturday. He can be contacted at other times at his residence, phone "County Operator 7204."

The association has found that it is more practical to have one man serve as both field and local representative.

HOME IS VISITED BY LOCAL PEOPLE

A local group composed of Odd Fellows and Rebekahs made an annual visit to the Odd Fellows home for aged members at Crowley on Sunday.

Those who comprised the party were Mr. and Mrs. Hope Tarver, Mrs. Linnie Whitaker, Mrs. Edith Karr and Robert (Bob) Phillips.

They carried a number of presents for the home and were joined by other groups from other parts of the state. The home is a large institution having a 40-acre farm which contributes to the support of those who reside there, many of whom are extremely old.

Broadcast Company Pays Tribute To John Amos

Bestows Medal On Man Who Gave His Eye To 19-Year-Old Youth

FERRIDAY, La., Sept. 2.—(Special)—John W. Amos, of St. Joseph, whose noble and unselfish donation of the retena of his eye to a young man, Frank Chabana, in the New Orleans Charity hospital on December 8, 1937, brought him nation-wide praise and publicity, has received from the Columbia Broadcasting system a beautiful medal, enclosed in a plush-covered box. One side of the medal contains the words: "Awarded by the Columbia Broadcasting company to John Wesley Amos," and on the reverse side are two hands extended as in friendly greeting, with the words in the center: "A Friend in Deed."

The "deed" Amos did was in giving the sight of his eye to the 19-year-old youth, whom he had known only a short while, a fellow sufferer in the state hospital.

A reporter for a New Orleans newspaper, visiting the hospital for news, was told about this remarkable piece of surgery, grafting the retena of the eye of an old man to the blind eye of a young man, restoring sight, where sight had long been gone, and featured it in his paper. Now the young man can see well through his once blind eye, and Amos sees so well out of his one eye that he scarcely misses the one he lost.

Amos went to New York and was on "We, the People" radio program. In New York he was given a number of presents as souvenirs, one present being a new overcoat. He later received a check for $250. Persons prominent in radio, commercial and political life of New York visited Amos when in New York.

At present Amos' health is not so good, but he is able to be up and about, and is receiving the congratulations of his numerous friends on the award which has been given him for his unselfish deed.

LOCAL NEGRO HELD IN HIT-RUN CASE

Langdon Broady, local negro, was being held in the city jail Tuesday morning, charged with larceny of an automobile, hit and run driving and driving while intoxicated, according to Acting Police Chief B. L. Brantley.

Two other negroes, Jim Reed and Mose Roden, were in St. Francis Sanitarium as the result of injuries received early Tuesday when they were struck by the car driven by Broady, the chief said. Neither was believed to be seriously hurt, he stated.

Traffic Sergeant J. M. Busby and Officer M. L. Peters arrested Broady about 8:30 a.m. when a search for the car which injured the two negroes led them to the parking lot at Hotel Frances. The automobile, property of W. H. Gayley, was parked on the lot for the night, and was stolen by Broady, an employe at the lot, according to investigating police. Broady admitted taking the car and injuring the two men, police stated.

NEW WAREHOUSE BEING PLANNED

Sam Orchard Announces Lease Of Site For Larger Quarters

Sam A. Orchard, Monroe manager of the branch house of the Louisiana Paper company, announced Tuesday that the company, in an effort to provide suitable facilities for a steady increase in business, will move from its present quarters, a warehouse on North Second street at the rear of the Monroe Wholesale Drug company, to a new warehouse which will be erected at the southwest corner of Washington and Ninth streets.

Joseph Kusin, owner of the site, will construct the new and modern warehouse and offices, leasing it to the Louisiana Paper company on a 10-year lease.

Two small warehouses now on the site will be razed and some of the material will be employed in the new construction.

Mr. Orchard, manager of the company here for 16 years, stated that his company anticipates occupying the new place of business during the last two weeks of the present year.

The new building will have a floor space of 9,000 square feet and will embody many features that will enable the business to be conducted on a broader scale than ever before, Mr. Orchard said.

Construction will be initiated at the earliest possible date.

THE ARMY'S ON THE MOVE!

ARMY maneuvers on a scale vastly greater than ever attempted in this country are under way and will continue for several months. The scene of these maneuvers is the nine southern states served by Southern Bell.

It will be both a test and training for the army as well as for the civilian population which provides the vital means of communication, transportation and supply.

Essential to the success of these maneuvers is an adequate, dependable system of telephone communication. This the Southern Bell Company is providing whenever, wherever and in whatever amount the fast shifting armies require. This means that the Telephone Company, like the army, is keeping its sources of supply, transportation facilities and man power ready day and night so it can act on the moment. Past years of training and experience in meeting emergencies have already prepared our army of telephone workers for this big task.

It is the Telephone Company's plan to take care of the army's needs with little, if any, serious interference with the public's accustomed use of the service. During these maneuvers, however, there may be occasions when for short periods of time our facilities will be mainly required to meet the army's sudden and unexpected needs. Should this happen in your community, your wholehearted cooperation will be a helpful contribution to the successful advancement of preparedness.
